

ENGLISH REVIEWER

LET REVIEWER UNIVERSITY

-
1. More than one friendly whale has nudged a boat with such _____ that passengers have been knocked overboard.
a. enthusiasm
b. animosity
c. lethargy
d. serenity
 2. Readers were so bored with the verbose and redundant style of the Victorian novelists that they welcomed the change to the _____ style of Hemingway.
a. prolix
b. consistent
c. florid
d. terse
 3. Fossils may be set in stone, but their interpretation is not; a new find may necessitate the _____ of a traditional theory.
a. assertion
b. revision
c. formulation
d. validation
 4. The linguistic _____ of the refugee children is reflected in their readiness to adopt the language of their homeland.
a. conservatism
b. inadequacy
c. adaptability
d. philosophy
 5. Lucille is too much _____ in her writings: she writes a page when a sentence should suffice.
a. pleasant
b. lucid
c. verbose
d. efficient
 6. It is remarkable that a man so in the public eye, so highly praised and imitated, can retain his _____.
a. idiosyncrasies
b. dogmas
c. humility
d. magniloquence
 7. Breaking with established artistic and social conventions, Picasso was _____ genius whose heterodox works infuriated the traditionalists of his day.
a. a venerated
b. a trite
c. an iconoclastic
d. an uncontroversial
 8. A tapeworm is an example of an _____ organism, one that lives within or on another creature, deriving some or all of its nutriment from its host.
a. a protozoan
b. a parasitic
c. an exemplary
d. an autonomous
 9. The mob lost confidence of him because he never _____ the grandiose promises he had made.
a. tired of
b. renegade on
c. delivered on
d. retreated from
 10. Emily Elizabeth Dickinson received little honor in her lifetime but her poetic legacy has gained considerable fame _____.

- a. anonymously
b. posthumously
 c. prematurely
 d. previously
11. Unlike the highly _____ Romantic poets of the previous century, Rudyard Kipling and his fellow Victorian poets were _____ and interested in moralizing.
 a. emotional . . . didactic
b. sensitive . . . strange
 c. dramatic . . . warped
 d. rhapsodic . . . lyrical 12. Ana is an interesting _____, an infinitely shy person who, in apparent contradiction, possesses an enormously intuitive _____ for understanding people.
 a. phenomenon . . . disinclination
 b. caricature . . . talent
 c. paradox . . . gift
 d. aberration . . . disdain
13. Truculent in defending their rights of sovereignty under the Articles of the Confederation, the newly formed states _____ constantly.
 a. apologized
 b. squabbled
c. digressed
 d. acquiesced
14. No real – life hero of ancient or modern days can surpass James Bond with his nonchalant _____ of death and the _____ with which he bears torture.
 a. veneration . . . guile
 b. concept . . . terror
c. disregard . . . fortitude
 d. impatience . . . fickleness
15. Surrounded by sycophants who invariably _____ in her singing, Zia wearied of the constant adulation and longed for honest criticism.
 a. assailed
 b. thwarted
 c. reciprocated
d. extolled
16. Despite the growing _____ of the Party list Representatives in the Philippine Congress, many political experts felt that the NGOs are still _____ in the government.
 a. decrease . . . inappropriate
b. prominence . . . underrepresented
 c. skill . . . alienated
 d. number . . . misdirected
17. Although Tagalogs often use the terms Bisayans and Cebuano _____, people coming from the Southern part of the Philippines are profoundly aware of the _____ the two.
 a. unerringly . . . significance of
 b. confidently . . . origins of
 c. deprecatingly . . . controversies about
d. interchangeably . . . dissimilarities between 18. There is nothing _____ or provisional about Bronte's early critical pronouncements; she deals _____ with what then radical new developments in poetry.
 a. tentative . . . confidently
 b. dogmatic . . . arbitrary
 c. imprecise . . . inconclusively
 d. shallow . . . superficially 19. This well-documented history is of importance because it carefully _____ the _____ accomplishments of the Filipino artists who are all too little known to the public at large.
 a. recognizes . . . negligible
 b. scrutinizes . . . illusory

- c. substantiates . . . considerable
d. distorts . . . noteworthy
20. An experienced politician who knew better than to launch a campaign in troubled political waters, he intended to wait for a more _____ occasion before he announced his plans.
- a. provocative
b. unseemly
c. questionable
d. propitious

The logo for Let Reviewer University is centered on the page. It consists of a large, light blue circle with a thin yellow border. Inside this is a smaller, solid purple circle. Within the purple circle, the words "LET REVIEWER" are written in a bold, yellow, sans-serif font, and "UNIVERSITY" is written below it in a white, sans-serif font. A thin white horizontal line separates the two words. The entire logo is set against a background of a light blue and white gradient.