

SPECIALIZATION REVIEW

TEACHER

Competency Building Course ENGLISH

TEACHER

1. Which of the following terms describes the subject matter, style, tone and attitude of literature of ancient Greek and Rome?

A. Romanticism

B. Realism

C. Classicism

D. Naturalism

E. Existentialism

TEACHER

Classical Literary Theory

This theory is premised on the idea that literature is an imitation of life. It is interested in looking at literature based on:

Mimesis (Plato). Mimesis is the Greek word for imitation. We try to see whether a piece of literary work shows imitation of life or reality as we know it. If it is, what is imitated? How is the imitation done? Is it a good or bad imitation?

Function (Horace). Function refers to whether a piece of literary work aims to entertain (dulce) or to teach or to instruct (utile).

Style (Longinus). Style refers to whether the literary work is written in a low, middle, or high style. Longinus even suggested a fourth style which he called the sublime.

Catharsis (Aristotle). Catharsis refers to purgation, purification, clarification, or structural kind of emotional cleansing. Aristotle's view of catharsis involves purging of negative emotions, like pity and fear.

Censorship (Plato). Censorship is an issue for Plato for literary works that show bad mimesis. Literary works that show bad mimesis should be censored according to Plato.

TEACHER

Romantic Theory

William Wordsworth explained his idea on romanticism in his Preface to the Second Edition of the Lyrical Ballads. He explained that poetry should:

1. have a subject matter that is ordinary and commonplace.
2. use simple language, even aspiring to the language of prose.
3. make use of the imagination.
4. convey a primal (simple, uncomplicated) feeling.
5. present similitude in dissimilitude (similarities in differences).

TEACHER

Naturalism refers to how we endlessly become inventive in finding ways of making sense of the most random or chaotic utterances or discourse. We refuse to allow a text to remain alien and stay outside our frames of reference – we insist on ‘naturalizing’ it.

Existentialism is a movement of 20th-century literature that focuses on the individual and his or her relationship with the universe or God. This existentialist tag has been applied to writers, philosophers, visual artist and film-makers; the movement flourished in Europe.

TEACHER

2. Plato's idea about the art of poetry is expressed in treatise _____?

- A. The Republic
- B. Poetics
- C. Ars Poetica
- D. On The Sublime
-  E. Ion

TEACHER

Plato's Ion is the Greek philosopher's shortest dialogue and truly one of his weirdest texts. There, Ion a professional reciter of epic poetry debates the Greek philosopher Socrates on the nature of art. For Plato's aesthetic philosophy as presented in Ion, art is divine inspiration. It is a divine madness similar to that overtaking a prophet when the god speaks through them.

TEACHER

Justice is the central theme of Plato's Republic. In his attempt to explain the meaning of justice and why it is good in itself Plato equips a vivid analogy between the soul and the state. He first examines justice in the city; he believes that this will be more readily apparent since the city is the larger unit (. From this, he analogously derives his idea of individual justice with the use of his theory of the tripartite soul: rationality, spiritual, appetite.

TEACHER

3. He believes that reality exists when the thing or object or emotion is lasting.

A. Aristotle

B. Sophocles

C. Plato

D. Longinus

E. Sappho

TEACHER

4. It is a narrative technique utilized by Homer and Sophocles in their plot scheme.

A. flashback

B. media res

C. unity

D. foreshadowing

E. discovery

TEACHER

In medias res, (Latin: “in the midst of things”) the practice of beginning an epic or other narrative by plunging into a crucial situation that is part of a related chain of events; the situation is an extension of previous events and will be developed in later action. The narrative then goes directly forward, and exposition of earlier events is supplied by flashbacks.

The principle of in medias res is based on the practice of Homer in the Iliad and the Odyssey. The Iliad, for example, begins dramatically with the quarrel between Achilles and Agamemnon during the Trojan War. In his Ars poetica, the Latin poet and critic Horace pointed out the immediate interest created by this opening in contrast to beginning the story ab ovo (“from the egg”)—i.e., from the birth of Achilles, which is the story’s earliest chronological point. Though its roots are in ancient epic poems, in medias res can be found today across numerous fiction and nonfiction narrative forms.

TEACHER

5. Longinus advanced his theory on poetry in which writings?

A. Ion

B. The Republic

C. Poetics

D. On The Sublime

E. Ars Poetica

TEACHER

6. He is a Spanish author who wrote the novel “Don Quixote”.

A. Gustave Flaubert

B. Joseph Conrad

 C. Miguel de Cervantes

D. D.H. Lawrence

E. Herman Melville

TEACHER

7. The following taboo phrases were used by which writer?

“I fart at thee”, “shit on your head”, “dirty bastard”

- A. Ben Johnson
- B. Henry James
- C. Ernest Hemingway
- D. Arnold Bronte
- E. Robinson Crusoe

TEACHER

8. He believes that the poet is an inventor for a better world.

A. John Donne

B. John Dryden

C. William Wordsworth

D. John Milton

E. Emily Dickinson

TEACHER

John Dryden (1631–1700) occupies a seminal place in English critical history. Samuel Johnson called him “the father of English criticism,” and affirmed of his Essay of Dramatic Poesy (1668) that “modern English prose begins here.” Dryden’s critical work was extensive, treating of various genres such as epic, tragedy, comedy and dramatic theory, satire, the relative virtues of ancient and modern writers, as well as the nature of poetry and translation.

TEACHER

9. He said that a man is a product of his choices.

- A. Jean Paul Sartre
- B. William Shakespeare
- C. Robinson Crusoe
- D. Herman Melville
- E. John Donne

TEACHER

Jean Paul Sarte and Existentialism

Existentialism lays stress on the existence of humans; Sartre believed that human existence is the result of chance or accident. There is no meaning or purpose of our lives other than what our freedom creates, therefore, we must rely on our own resources. Sartre thought that existence manifests itself in the choice of actions, anxiety and freedom of the will. In this way the responsibility of building one's future is in one's hands, but the future is uncertain and so one has no escape from anxiety and despair.

TEACHER

10. It is the movement in literature criticizing the marginalization of women and gender equality.

A. Formalism

B. Feminism

C. Structuralism

D. Naturalism

E. Romanticism

TEACHER

11. It is a criticism that uses personal judgement.

A. New Criticism

B. Formalism

 C. Reader's Response

D. Psychoanalytic Poetry

E. Binary Opposition

TEACHER

American New Criticism/New Criticism

This theory believes that literature is an organic unity. It is independent of its author or the time when it was written or the historical context. It is concerned solely with the ‘text in itself’, with its language and organization. It does not primarily seek a text’s meaning, but how it speaks itself. It encourages attentive close reading of texts, a kind of democratization of literary study in the classroom, in which nearly everyone is placed on an equal footing in the face of a ‘blind text.’ It looks into how the parts relate to each other, achieve its order and harmony, contain and resolve irony, paradox, tension, ambivalence, and ambiguity.

TEACHER

Psychoanalytical Theory

This theory applies the ideas of Freudian psychology to literature. Freud sees the component parts of the psyche as three groups of functions: the id, directly related to the instinctual drives; the ego, an agency which regulates and opposes the drives; and the superego, another part of the ego with a critical judging function.

It encourages the reader/critic to be creative in speculating about the character's or author's motivations, drives, fears, or desires. The belief here is that creative writing is like dreaming – it disguises what cannot be confronted directly – the critic must decode what is disguised. A direct relation between the text and the author is presupposed and made the center of inquiry.

TEACHER

12. It is the consequence of pity and fear among the spectators.

- A. hamartia
- B. repentance
- C. discovery
- D. suffering
-  E. catharsis

TEACHER

Tragic Hero - the main character (or protagonist) of a tragedy. According to Aristotle a tragic hero must be noble or royal. A tragic hero is better-than-average, but not perfect. In a tragedy the tragic hero always experiences a misfortune as a result of a tragic flaw. A tragic hero is often punished greater than his crime. To be a tragic hero, the character must learn or discover something very important as a result of their misfortune or fall.

Hamartia - the tragic flaw that causes the tragic hero's downfall. Tragic heroes all have tragic flaws to make them more like us. One common tragic flaw is "hubris" (pronounced: hew-bris) and means "great pride" or "arrogance". The hamartia is usually caused by bad choice the tragic hero makes and not by fate.

TEACHER

13. It is the consequence of a mistake in judgment.

A. discovery

B. suffering

C. peripety

D. existence

E. tragedy

TEACHER

14. Which among the following does not belong to Aristotle's view on plot?

A. The plot should be single.

B. The plot should have a twist at the end.

C. The plot should be complete.

D. The plot should show sudden change in the hero's fortune.

E. The plot must have the beginning, middle and end.

TEACHER

15. When is a poem good according to Longinus?

- A. If it is beautifully crafted.
- B. If it elevates the reader to greater heights of feelings.
- C. If the poem can easily understand to the readers.
-  D. If it affects the reader through nobility of diction and thought.
- E. If the message of the poem can be stated to the readers.

TEACHER

16. Who is presented as the most honest and moral of Chaucer's pilgrims?

A. The Knight

B. The Parson

C. The Reeve

D. The Wife of Bath

E. The King

A parson is a parish priest, and with this Parson we get an exemplary one. Unlike the Friar or the Monk, who fail to practice what they preach, the Parson lives the Gospel he teaches by being holy and virtuous in all things, giving to the poor while he himself lives a life of poverty, and visiting his widely-spaced parishioners, rain or shine.

TEACHER

17. Out of the following four pilgrims, which is the most corrupt?

A. The Sergeant /Man of Law

B. The Wife of Bath

C. The Reeve

D. The Pardoner

E. The Knight

TEACHER

The Pardoner's Tale, one of the 24 stories in The Canterbury Tales by Geoffrey Chaucer.

The cynical Pardoner explains in a witty prologue that he sells indulgences—ecclesiastical pardons of sins—and admits that he preaches against avarice although he practices it himself. His tale relates how three drunken revelers set out to destroy Death after one of their friends had died.

TEACHER

18. In Herman Melville's "Moby Dick", what does the sea associate?

A. long life, freedom and rebirth

B. strong reflection, life and rebirth

C. searching, vision and rebirth

D. spiritual mystery, death and rebirth

E. life, death and rebirth

TEACHER

19. He is an essayist who wrote against the rigidity of Puritanism.

A. Soren Kierkegard

B. Ralph Waldo Emerson

C. Henry David Thoreau

D. Jonathan Edwards

E. Daniel Defoe

TEACHER

20. Ulysses chronicles the passage of Leopold Bloom through Dublin during an ordinary day, 16 June 1904. The title alludes to Odysseus, the hero of Homer's Odyssey. Name the author of Ulysses.

A. Anthony Trollope

B. Kenneth Grahame

C. Laurence Strenne

D. James Joyce

E. Jonathan Swift

TEACHER

21. He is a king who ruled with the help of the knights of the round table.

A. King Henry I

B. King Arthur

C. King Alfred

D. King George IV

E. King Charles I

TEACHER

22. It is focusing on the outstanding feature of a person.

A. Feminism

B. Naturalism

C. Realism

D. Existentialism

E. Romanticism

TEACHER

23. Name the book which opens with the line ‘All children, except one grew up’?

A. The Moby Dick

B. The Paradise Lost

C. The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn

D. Uncle Tom’s Cabin

E. Peter Pan

TEACHER

24. She is an American writer who made herself known for her extreme individualism in poetry.

A. Elizabeth Browning

B. Emily Dickinson

C. Anne Bradstreet

D. Emily Bronte

E. Sarah Fielding

TEACHER

25. A philosophy advocating that man is a product of freedom.

A. Imagism

B. Formalism

C. Romanticism

D. Existentialism

E. Naturalism

TEACHER

26. It is undoubtedly the simplest way of fleshing out the theme.

A. allegory

B. symbol

C. image

D. structure

E. form

TEACHER

As a literary device or artistic form, an allegory is a narrative or visual representation in which a character, place, or event can be interpreted to represent a hidden meaning with moral or political significance. Authors have used allegory throughout history in all forms of art to illustrate or convey complex ideas and concepts in ways that are comprehensible or striking to its viewers, readers, or listeners.

Writers and speakers typically use allegories to convey (semi)hidden or complex meanings through symbolic figures, actions, imagery, or events, which together create the moral, spiritual, or political meaning the author wishes to convey. Many allegories use personification of abstract concepts.

TEACHER

27. It is the study of the principles and rules for constructing sentences in natural languages.

A. Semiotics

B. Syntax

C. Semantics

D. Phonetics

E. Phonemes

TEACHER

28. Oliver Cromwell belong to what party?

A. royalist

B. religious

C. peasants

D. round head

E. land owners

TEACHER

Oliver Cromwell was best known for being Lord Protector of the Commonwealth of England Scotland and Ireland after the defeat of King Charles I in the Civil War. He was one of the main signatories on Charles I's death warrant.

After the execution of King Charles I, Cromwell led the Commonwealth of England.

TEACHER

29. It refers to making art and literature accessible to the masses.

A. Popularization

B. Imagism

C. Formalism

D. Structuralism

E. Modern Criticism

TEACHER

30. The play “Hamlet” is a _____.

- A. feminist
- B. naturalist
- C. existentialist
- D. formalist
- E. none of the above

TEACHER

31. It is also called The Apocalypse in Bible.

A. Genesis

B. Proverbs

 C. Revelations

D. Psalm

E. Acts

TEACHER

32. She was an English poet who wrote a variety of romantic, devotional, and children's poems.

A. Emily Dickinson

B. Edith Hamilton

C. Anne Bradstreet

D. Christina Georgina Rossetti

E. Mary Shelley

TEACHER

33. The belief that the meaning or value of work may be determined by the author's intention.

A. Tension

B. Intentional Fallacy

C. Affective Fallacy

D. Organic Unity

E. None of the above.

TEACHER

New Critics used the term “intentional fallacy” to point out the mistaken assumption that the intention of the writer is the same as the meaning of the text. The author might have an intention while writing, but whether that intention is successfully revealed or manifested in a work of art is questionable. Thus the critics task is to discover only what is in the text itself and not to be worried about things such as intention or biographies or letters etc. Examining outside the text is both unnecessary and fallacious because the text itself encompasses everything we need to know in order to comprehend it.

TEACHER

Just as we cannot know the meaning of a text by knowing the intention of the author, in the same way we cannot know the meaning of the literary text by simply interpreting the reader's personal response to it. Readers' emotions and views about a literary text may be generated by some particular personal connection from past occurrences rather than by the literary text. For example, a person may explain Hamlet's mother based only on his feelings and emotions about his own mother and can assume that he had properly explained the character. Such a judgment would be an illustration of what New Critics termed "affective fallacy".

TEACHER

34. What work contains these lines:

*“There hurls in at the hall-door an unknown rider . . .
Half a giant on earth I hold him to be.”*

A. As You Like It

B. Morte D’arthur

C. Piers Plowman

D. Canterbury Tales

E. Sir Gawain and the Green Knight

TEACHER

35. It is the repetition of words at the beginnings of neighbor clauses.

A. cataphora

B. anaphora

C. conjunction

D. ellipses

E. parallelism

ANAPHORA EXAMPLE

“In every cry of every Man,
In every infant's cry of fear,”

- “London,” William Blake

Love (Anaphora)

Love is God's infinite love.

Love is His love from above.

Love is a child's smile.

Love is to think of loved ones thru the miles.

Love is to watch a beautiful rose open.

Love is the pursuit of peace among men.

Love is the birth and re-birth of all life.

Love is to find hope among strife.

Love is true devotion to a loved one, and a dear friend.

Love is God's divine love that has no end.

Dorian Petersen Potter

Anaphora

We shall not flag or fail. We shall go on to the end. We shall fight in France, ...
We shall never surrender.

- Winston Churchill

Never shall I forget that night, the first night in camp, Never shall I forget that smoke. Never shall I forget the little faces of the children...”

Elie Wiesel, Night

TEACHER

36. This is used to describe an expression that co-refers with a latter expression.

A. conjunction

B. anaphora

C. cathapora

D. coherence

E. cohesion

TEACHER

Examples and Uses of Cataphora

In the following examples, cataphors are in italics and their referents are in bold.

- "Why do we envy him, the bankrupt man?"
(John Updike, Hugging the Shore, 1984)
- A few weeks before he died, my father gave me an old cigar box filled with faded letters.
- "In 'The Pendulum Years,' his history of the 1960s, Bernard Levin writes of the 'collective insanity which seized Britain.'"
(The London Evening Standard, February 8, 1994, quoted by Katie Wales in Personal Pronouns in Present-Day English. Cambridge University Press, 1996)
- "If she were alive today, [Barbara] Tuchman would surely be preparing to pen fresh furious pages tonight, as the president seeks to rally his faltering domestic popularity with summonses of support."
(Martin Kettle, "If He Resists the Siren Voice of Folly, Blair's Legacy Is Secure." The Guardian, June 25, 2005)

TEACHER

37. The repeated words with the same text.

A. coherence

B. cohesion

C. partial recurrence

D. recurrence

E. proform

TEACHER

38. A mark or series of marks that usually indicate an intentional omission of some parts.

A. paraphrase

B. ellipses

C. coherence

D. subordination

E. conjunction

TEACHER

39. Which of the following is a work of SAMUEL LANGHORNE CLEMENS?

A. Animal Farm

B. Adventures of Huckleberry Finn

C. The Scarlet Letter

D. Uncle Tom's Cabin

E. The Cask of Amontillado

TEACHER

40. A restatement of a text or passages.

A. parallelism

B. paraphrase

C. ellipses

D. conjunction

E. subordination

TEACHER

41. All of these statements are true except one.

- A. The Mohenjo-Daro civilization flourished on 3000-2500 BC.
- B. Inhabitants of these cities were dark-skinned.
- C. Africans believe that hope for a better Africa lies in its ability to integrate.
-  D. “A Picture in the Cellar” discusses about of keeping memoirs.
- E. The educated Africans are the hope of the African nations.

TEACHER

42. He is an essayist exemplified Elizabethan ideal of intellectual versatility in the 17th Century.

A. William Shakespeare

B. Oliver Cromwell

C. John Milton

D. John Donne

E. Francis Bacon

TEACHER

43. Which of these statements is false?

- A. Edgar Allan Poe wrote dark novels.
- B. Ramayana is attributed to Valmiki.
- C. Geoffrey Chaucer is the unofficial father of English Literature.
- D. Rabindranath Tagore wrote “Gitanjali”.
-  E. Next to Iliad, Mahabharata is the world’s longest epic.

TEACHER

44. It carrying the sense of one line of verse over the next line without a pause.

- A. enjambment
- B. denouement
- C. catalexis
- D. antecedent
- E. allegory

TEACHER

Enjambment

The running-over of a sentence or phrase from one poetic line to the next, without terminal punctuation; the opposite of end-stopped. William Carlos Williams's "Between Walls" is one sentence broken into 10 enjambed lines:

the back wings of the hospital where nothing will grow lie cinders

in which shine
the broken

pieces of a green bottle

TEACHER

45. He is one of the exceptional writer in Philippine Literature and also known as Quijano De Manila.

A. Bienvenido Santos

B. F. Sionil Jose

C. Jose Garcia Villa

D. Nick Joaquin

E. Manuel Arguilla

TEACHER

46. It is a dramatic expression of Zen Buddhism viewed by feudal lords.

A. Sampiran

B. Hansi

 C. Noh Play

D. Seloka

E. Suthon Phu

TEACHER

47. He is a Chinese dramatic playwright who wrote “The West Chamber”.

A. Seami Motokiyo

B. Catherine Lim

C. Kahlil Gibran

D. Wang Shifu

E. Confucius

TEACHER

48. Which novel, eventually published in 1945, was rejected by a New York publisher stating ‘it is impossible to sell animal stories in the USA’?

- A. Animal Farm
- B. Black Beauty
- C. Watership Down
- D. The Tale of Peter Rabbit
- E. Moby Dick

TEACHER

49. This approach attempts to explain the how's and why's of human action and can exist side by side with any other critical method of interpretation.

A. New Criticism

B. Symbolism

C. Modern Criticism

D. Moral Criticism

 E. Psychoanalytic Criticism

TEACHER

The main difference between Russian Formalism and New Criticism is their focus on the form and content of a literary work. Russian Formalism mainly focused on the form or structure of a literary work, instead of its content, but New Criticism believed that both form and content are closely connected and equally important.

TEACHER

50. He translated “The Fall of Princes” from the French.

- A. William Langland
- B. Sir Thomas Malory
- C. Geoffrey of Monmouth
-  D. John Lydgate
- E. Giovanni Boccaccio

TEACHER

51. The study and classification of language based on how morphemes create words is called _____?

A. Morphology

B. Phonology

C. Typology

D. Semantics

E. Syntax

TEACHER

52. How many Inflectional Morphemes are there in English?

A. 4

B. 5

C. 6

D. 7

E. 8

TEACHER

Suffix	Function	Example	Attaches to
-s	plural	cats	Nouns
-’s	possessive	brother’s	Nouns
-er	comparative	taller faster	Adjectives
-est	superlative	tallest fastest	Adjectives
-s	third person singular present tense	(she) walks (he) eats	Verbs
-ed	past tense	walked called	Verbs
-ing	progressive	walking giving	Verbs
-en	past participle	(have) given (have) eaten	Verbs

TEACHER

53. The study and classification of language based on how morphemes create words is called _____?

- A. Morphological Typology
- B. Word Based Morphology
- C. Lexeme Based Morphology
- D. Event Semantics
- E. Linguistic Typology

TEACHER

54. These words are created by adding affixes to roots.

A. Word Borrowing

B. Compound Words

C. Trade Names

D. Clipping

E. Blending

TEACHER

Different Forms of Word Formation

www.literaryenglish.com

Word Formation Process		Structure	Derived Word
Borrowing		Sofa (Arabic)	Sofa (English)
Compounding		Text+book	Textbook
Blending		Smoke+fog	Smog
Affixation	Prefix	Re+write	Rewrite
	Suffix	Write+able	Writeable
	Infix	Man+plural	Men
Zero Derivation / Conversion		Attack (Noun)	Attack (verb)
Back Formation		Edit-or	Edit
Abbreviation	Clipping / shortening	Gasoline	Gas
	Contraction	Government	Govt
	Acronym / Initialism	Compact Disc	CD

TEACHER

55. It involves snipping a part of a word to create a shortened form.

- A. Trade Names
- B. Word Borrowing
- C. Compounding
- D. Blending
- E. Clipping

TEACHER

56. The meaningful units of language are called _____?

A. syntax

B. phoneme

C. allomorphs

D. morpheme

E. predicate

TEACHER

57. Words formed from the first letter or letters of more than one words is called _____?

- A. Derivation
- B. Compounding
- C. Blending
- D. Clipping
-  E. Acronyms

TEACHER

58. Which one is NOT an open class of words?

A. noun

B. adjective

C. pronoun

D. verbs

E. adverbs

TEACHER

59. It is a relatively recently devised word/phrase that has not been accepted into mainstream usage.

- A. Allomorphs
- B. Back Formation
- C. Trade Names
- D. Compounding
-  E. Neologism

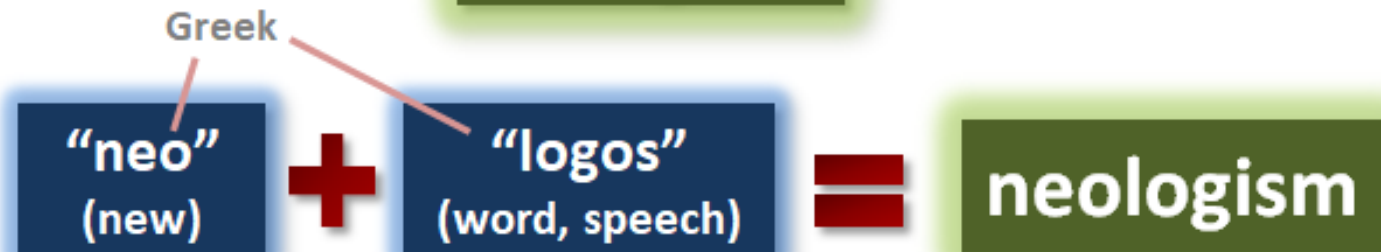

TEACHER

Neologism

Neologism: a newly coined word or term

Origin

Examples

sarchasm

The gap between a sarcastic comment and the recipient's failure to spot it bothie

A photograph that is both a SELFIE and a photograph of someone else (called a YOUIE) broflake

A male who is easily offended

TEACHER

60. It refers to the process of creating a new lexeme by removing actual or supposed affixes.

- A. Clipping
- B. Word Borrowing
-  C. Back Formation
- D. Blending
- E. Trade Names

TEACHER

61. It is a morpheme that only appears as part of a larger word and the one that cannot stand alone.

A. Free Morpheme

B. Bound Morpheme

C. Inflectional Morpheme

D. Derivational Morpheme

E. Allomorphs

TEACHER

62. It can function independently as words and can appear with other lexemes.

- A. Free Morpheme
- B. Bound Morpheme
- C. Derivational Morpheme
- D. Inflectional Morpheme
- E. Allomorphs

TEACHER

63. It is the study of how languages change over time and the relationship among different languages.

- A. Applied Linguistics
- B. Evolutionary Linguistics
- C. Stylistics
- D. Psycholinguistics
-  E. Historical Linguistics

TEACHER

64. It is a branch of linguistics that study of the cognitive processes and representations underlying language use.

A. Neurolinguistics

B. Historical Linguistics

C. Stylistics

D. Psycholinguistics

E. Sociolinguistics

TEACHER

65. It is the study of the origin and subsequent development of language by the human species.

A. Historical Linguistics

B. Developmental Linguistics

C. Evolutionary Linguistics

D. Sociolinguistics

E. Applied Linguistics

TEACHER

66. A branch o linguistics that study of natural as well as human-taught communication systems in animals, compared to human language.

A. Applied Linguistics

B. Clinical linguistics

C. Biolinguistics

D. Neurolinguistics

E. Stylistics

TEACHER

67. A branch of linguistics which studies style in a scientific and systematic way concerning the manners or linguistic features of different varieties of language at different levels.

A. Applied Linguistics

B. Psycholinguistics

 C. Stylistics

D. Sociolinguistics

E. Historical Linguistics

TEACHER

68. The following choices is a linguistic description except one. Which is it?

A. level of syntax/grammar

B. level of semantics

C. level of morphology

D. level of lexis

E. level of phonology/graphology

TEACHER

69. It studies the choices of specific lexical items in a text, their distribution in relation to one another, and their meanings.

- A. Phonology
- B. Semantics
- C. Graphology
- D. Morphology
-  E. Lexicology

TEACHER

70. It concentrating on the unique features of various literary works.

- A. Literary Stylistics
- B. General Stylistics
- C. Text
- D. Register
- E. Semiotics

TEACHER

71. It concentrates on the general features of various types of language used.

- A. General Stylistics
- B. Register
- C. Linguo-Stylistics
- D. Literary Stylistics
- E. Semiotics

TEACHER

72. Which one of these sentences below is simple sentence?

A. The students who came to the press conference are all from the same school.

B. Jack wanted to go swimming, but his wife wanted to go shopping.

C. We will be at the restaurant in twenty minutes.

D. The cat lived in the backyard, but the dog, who knew he was superior, lived inside the house.

E. Her son studies History; her daughter majors in Chemistry.

TEACHER

Name	Construction	Example	Punctuation
Simple Sentence	one independent clause	Ted watched.	Appropriate end punctuation.
Compound Sentence	two independent clauses	Ted watched, and he sprang. Ted watched; he sprang.	Connected with a comma and coordinative conjunction or a semicolon.
Complex Sentence	one or more independent clauses, and a dependent clause.	While Ted watched, he sprang.	Comma sets off only an introductory clause.
Compound-Complex Sentence	two or more independent clauses plus a dependent clause	While Ted watched, he sprang, and blood flew.	Comma for introductory clause and for compound construction.

TEACHER

73. Which of the following is not a complex sentence?

- A. He walked as if someone was following him.
- B. The worksheet is where you have put it.
- C. All of the people enjoyed the concert and the dinner that followed it.
-  D. The score was thirty-six to nothing; obviously there was little hope that the home team could win.
- E. We must find a teacher who understands our needs.

TEACHER

74. What process of words was used in the word brunch?

- A. Clipping
- B. Compounding
- C. Word Borrowing
-  D. Blending
- E. Back Formation

TEACHER

75. When a teacher wants to emphasize the learners' needs to identify why they are writing and for whom, he/she can use the _____.

A. process approach

B. controlled writing approach

C. free writing approach

D. communicative writing approach

E. task-based approach

TEACHER

76. A communicative competence area which is concern is one knowing how to use and respond to language appropriately, given the setting, the topic, and the relationship among the people communicating.

A. Discourse Competence

B. Linguistic Competence

C. Sociolinguistic Competence

D. Strategic Competence

E. Language Competence

TEACHER

77. This concept equates the idea of a “learning task” to a language learning technique in itself.

A. Transactional Approach

B. Communicative Approach

C. Learning By Teaching

D. Task-Based Approach

E. Communicative Language Teaching

TEACHER

78. Cognitive skills necessary for the construction and understanding of meaningful sequences of words.

- A. Linguistic Competence
- B. Grammatical Competence
- C. Communicative Competence
- D. Linguistic Performance
- E. Creative Competence

TEACHER

79. Modern descriptive linguistics is based on structural approach to language.

A. Malinowsky

B. Bloomfield

C. Halliday

D. Vineyard

E. Chomsky

TEACHER

80. Which statement is true?

- A. The phonological, morphological and syntactic aspect of language change are separate processors.
- B. Applied linguistics is concerned with first language acquisition.
- C. Psycholinguistics covers the non-cognitive process that make it possible to generate a grammatical and meaningful sentence out of vocabulary and grammatical structures.
-  D. There are two components which contributes to language acquisition, these are universal grammar and the environment.
- E. Morphological Typology has divided into two main types: the analytic and semantic.

TEACHER

81. Which of the following is a place of articulation?

A. nasal

B. plosive

C. dental

D. fricative

TEACHEP

		MANNER	VOICING	PLACE
				Bilabial	Labiodental	Interdental	Alveolar	Palatal	Velar	Glottal
Obstruent	Stop	Voiceless	p			t		k	ʔ
		Voiced	b			d		g
	Fricative	Voiceless		f	θ	s	ʃ		h
		Voiced		v	ð	z	ʒ
	Affricate	Voiceless					tʃ
		Voiced					dʒ
Sonorant	Nasal		Voiced	m			n		ŋ
	Liquid	Lateral	Voiced				l
		Rhotic	Voiced					r (ɹ)
	Glide		Voiced	w				j	(w)

TEACHER

82. Which of the following statements are correct?

A. happy is a homonym of sad

B. finger is an antonym of hand

C. blue is a synonym of color

D. soccer is a hyponym of sports

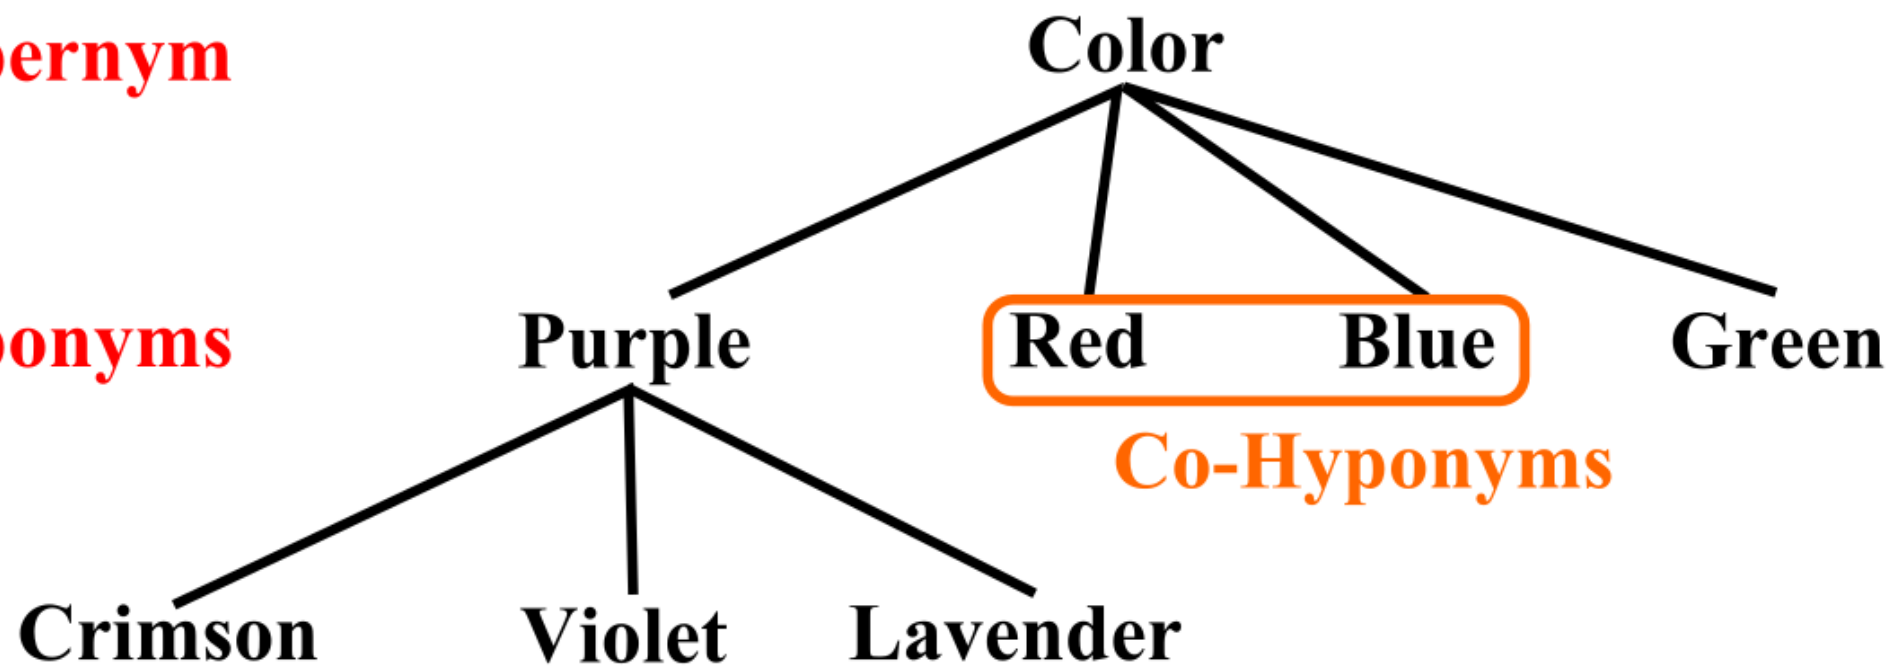

E. The White House is a metonym of The United States Government

TEACHER

Hypernym

Hyponyms

TEACHER

83. Which of the following is a common linguistic problem for someone learning a second language?

A. attitude of the learner

B. age

C. phonology

D. ability to hear

E. cultural background

TEACHER

84. Egyptian hieroglyphics can best be characterized as

A. a phonological writing system.

B. a combination of a syllabic writing system with symbols representing important religious concepts.

C. a logographic writing system.

D. a pictographic writing system.

E. a combination of ideographic elements with symbols representing linguistic sounds

TEACHER

85. Which of these sections of the brain plays an important part in language production/comprehension?

A. Wernicke's area

B. Johnson's area

C. Parietal lobe

D. Broca's area

E. Motor cortex

TEACHER

86. Mark those of the examples below which are minimal pairs in English

A. thick / sick

B. sled / red

C. rope / rose

D. war / tore

E. miner / minor

TEACHER

87. Which one of the following demonstrates a sentence combining with a subordinator?

- A. Although she wanted to go, she still had work to do.
- B. She could not go, nor did she want to.
- C. She promised that she would finish the work.
- D. Her boss, Mr. Jackson, would expect the work done properly.
- E. None of the above.

TEACHER

88. Positive transfer occurs when:

A. There is a misconception.

B. A student finds similar elements in two different ideas.

C. There is a moral.

D. Information has been memorized.

E. When there is a twist at the end.

TEACHER

89. It refers to the concept that there is a correct and an incorrect way to speak, write or sign is called _____.

A. Descriptive Grammar or Syntax

B. Prescriptive Grammar or Syntax

C. Lexeme

D. Simple Subject

E. Compound Predicate

TEACHER

90. It refers to the mostly subconscious rules of a language that one uses to combine smaller units into sentence.

- A. Descriptive Grammar or Syntax
- B. Compound Subject
- C. Simple Sentence
- D. Prescriptive Grammar or Syntax
- E. Adverbial Clause

TEACHER

91. A word that names a person, a living thing, an object, etc.

A. pronoun

B. adjective

C. adverb

D. noun

E. preposition

TEACHER

92. Words used to represent a noun is called

_____.

A. adjective

B. verb

C. noun

D. preposition

E. pronoun

TEACHER

93. A word connecting words, clauses or sentences and a simultaneous occurrence of events.

A. verb

B. adjective

C. adverb

D. preposition

E. conjunction

TEACHER

94. A part of speech that expresses an action, a process state or condition or mode of being.

A. noun

B. verb

C. adjective

D. pronoun

E. preposition

TEACHER

95. A system of rules for speaking and in writing of language.

A. sentence

B. phrase

C. grammar

D. pronunciation

E. words

TEACHER

GRAMMAR

VS

SYNTAX

Morphology

Phonology

Semantics

Syntax

Structure of words in a sentence.

GRAMMAR

TEACHER

96. It refers to spelling; that is, the relationship between phonemes and graphemes in a language.

A. grammar

B. sentence

C. orthography

D. syntax

E. semantics

TEACHER

97. It is a writing system where the written graphemes correspond to phonemes.

A. Complex Orthography

B. Morpho-Phonemic Orthography

C. Phonemic Orthography

D. Lexicon

E. Graphology

TEACHER

98. _____ are sentence which are very long but it is needed to divided.

A. enjambment

B. run-on

C. lexeme

D. lexicon

E. phoneme

TEACHER

99. Which of the following is NOT an elements of the fields of orthography?

A. capitalization

B. pronunciation

C. word breaks

D. punctuation

E. hyphenation

TEACHER

100. It is a branch of linguistic analysis that consists of the study of phonemes and often includes a study of their allophone.

A. Phonetics

B. Phonemes

C. Lexicon

D. Phonemics

E. Semantics

SPECIALIZATION REVIEW

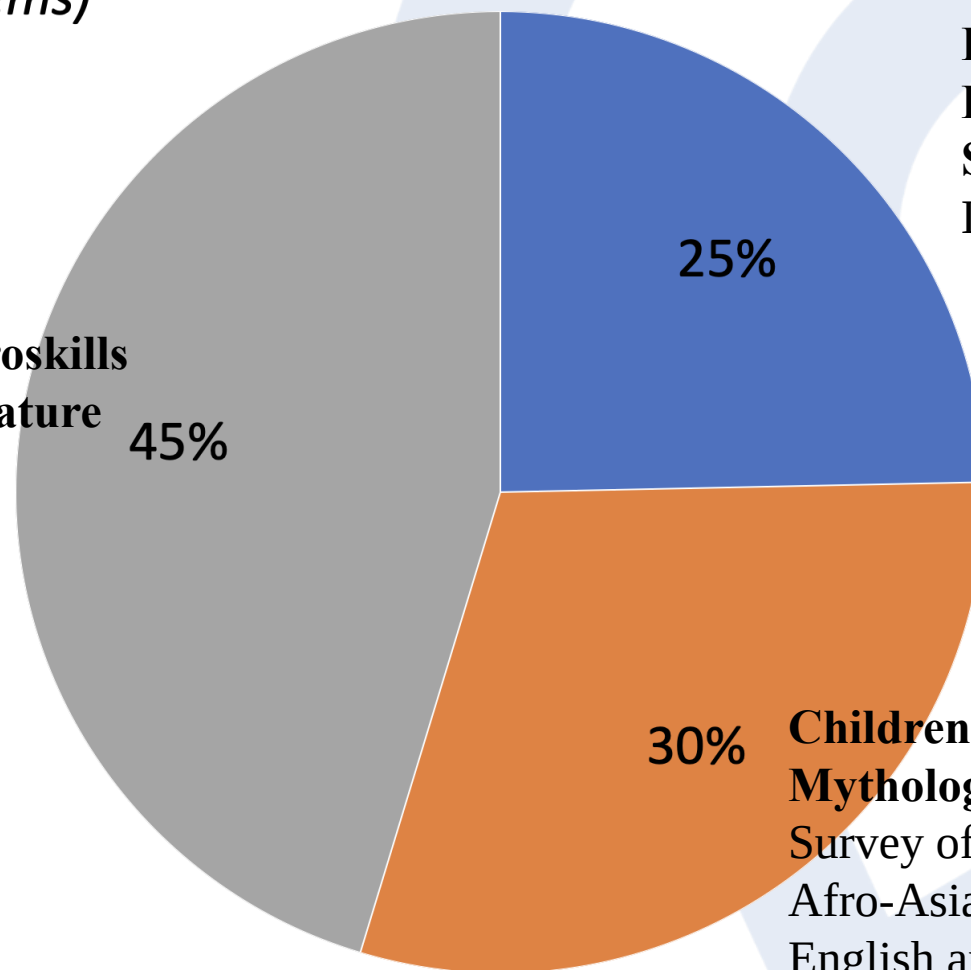

TEACHER

Competency Building Course ENGLISH

TEACHER

- Theoretical Foundations of Language, Culture, Literacies, and Literature (37 Items)
- Literature (45 Items)
- Methodology (68 Items)

Introduction to Linguistics
Language Culture and Society
Structure of English
Language Program and Policies

Teaching and Assessment of Macroskills
Teaching and Assessment of Literature
Speech and Theater Arts
Language Education Research Literary Criticism
Stylistics and Discourse Analysis
Campus Journalism
Technical Writing
Creative Writing
Technology in Language Education
English for Specific Purposes
Language and Literature Learning Materials Development
Remedial and Early Intervention for Language Learning Difficulties

Children and Adolescent Lit.
Mythology and Folklore
Survey of Lit. Selected Countries
Afro-Asian Lit
English and American Lit.
Contemporary, Popular and Emergent Lit.

Who is this ?

Father of English History Venerable Bede

Who is this ?

The Father of English Prose
King Alfred the Great

Who is this ?

The Father of Printing
Johannes Gutenberg

Who is this ?

The Father of English Tragedy
Christopher Marlowe

Who is this ?

Father of English Criticism

John Dryden

Who is this ?

The Revolutionary Poet

Percy Bysshe Shelley

Who is this ?

Poet of Beauty

John Keats

Who is this ?

The Father of English Novel
Henry Fielding

Who is this ?

The Father of Humanism
Francesco Petrararch

Who is this ?

The Father of Epic Poetry

Homer

Who is this ?

Indian National Poet Rabindranath Tagore

TEACHER

101. The branch of semantics that deals with the meaning of words.

- A. Lexeme
- B. Lexicon
- C. Grapheme
-  D. Lexical
- E. Structural

TEACHER

BRANCHES OF SEMANTICS

Lexical semantics studies the meanings of words; the focus is on 'content' words like lion, jasmine, selfish and persuade, rather than form/grammatical words like the, of, than, and so on.

Grammatical semantics studies aspects of meaning which have direct relevance to syntax. For instance, assigning category to the word yellow. It can be given the category such as adjective, noun and verb

Example: She wears a yellow skirt. (adjective)

He painted the room with a glowing yellow. (noun)

The leaves yellows rapidly in the winter. (verb)

TEACHER

Approaches to the study of semantics

- Traditional semantics - focus was on the nature of human language itself: the naturalists and the nurturists naturalists - language was God-given such that there was hardly anything anybody could do to understand language.

nurturists - language is a social property common to a speech community. Language was therefore perceived to be man's creation for the convenience of communication. In spite of difference in languages, the uniting point is that they are all for communication.

TEACHER

- Structural semantics - Structuralism as a linguistic theory considers the structures and systems in language. Under structuralism, emphasis is on the analysis of sense relations that connect words and meaning.

Father of Structuralism - Ferdinand de Saussure.

- Behavioral semantics - The external environment is perceived to be the major stimulus to all human utterances. Those who favour the behavioural approach to semantics have argued that by reducing meaning to observable entities, language, as an aspect of human favour can lend itself to examination.(the physical environment is perceived to contribute to meaning rather than the internal thought processes.)

TEACHER

- Generative semantics - A language user has a finite set of rules from which he can generate an infinite number of sentences forms via transformations. At the beginning of Chomsky's generative grammar, there was the assertion that syntax was autonomous and independent of semantics. It was only later in Aspects of the theory of Syntax (1965) that Chomsky pointed out that the semantic component specifies the rules necessary for the interpretation of deep structures. This will require the interpretation of functional roles in sentences.

TEACHER

A phoneme is the smallest unit of sound. There are 44 phonemes in English. This includes short vowel sounds, long vowel sounds, digraph sounds such as /sh/, /th/ (voiced and unvoiced) and /ch/, and single consonant sounds. Most people consider the diphthong sounds /oy/ and /ou/ to be single phonemes as well. Linguistically, /ng/ and /ar/, /or/, /er/, /ear/, /oar/, and schwa are also phonemes.

A grapheme is the smallest unit of a written language whether or not it carries meaning or corresponds to a single phoneme. Grapheme is a letter or group of letters that represent a single phoneme. This is a term used more or less synonymously with phonogram. There are often numerous graphemes (or phonograms) that can represent a single phoneme. For example, the /ā/ sound is a phoneme that can be represented by numerous graphemes including ai, ay, ey, ei, eigh, a-e.

TEACHER

A phoneme is the smallest unit of sound. There are 44 phonemes in English. This includes short vowel sounds, long vowel sounds, digraph sounds such as /sh/, /th/ (voiced and unvoiced) and /ch/, and single consonant sounds. Most people consider the diphthong sounds /oy/ and /ou/ to be single phonemes as well. Linguistically, /ng/ and /ar/, /or/, /er/, /ear/, /oar/, and schwa are also phonemes.

A grapheme is the smallest unit of a written language whether or not it carries meaning or corresponds to a single phoneme. Grapheme is a letter or group of letters that represent a single phoneme. This is a term used more or less synonymously with phonogram. There are often numerous graphemes (or phonograms) that can represent a single phoneme. For example, the /ā/ sound is a phoneme that can be represented by numerous graphemes including ai, ay, ey, ei, eigh, a-e.

TEACHER

102. The study of production and perception of speech sounds.

- A. Phonetics
- B. Phonemics
- C. Semantics
- D. Syntax
- E. Semiotics

TEACHER

103. Which of the following is NOT a function of language?

A. Referential Function

B. Conative Function

C. Poetic Function

D. Expressive Function

E. None of the above.

TEACHER

There are at least three different basic functions of language:

1. Informative – words can be used to pass on information
2. Expressive – words can be used to evoke an emotion that is not a direct result of their meaning
3. Performatory – words can be as a kind of symbol / action in and of themselves

TEACHER

104. Which of the following is NOT a component of grammar?

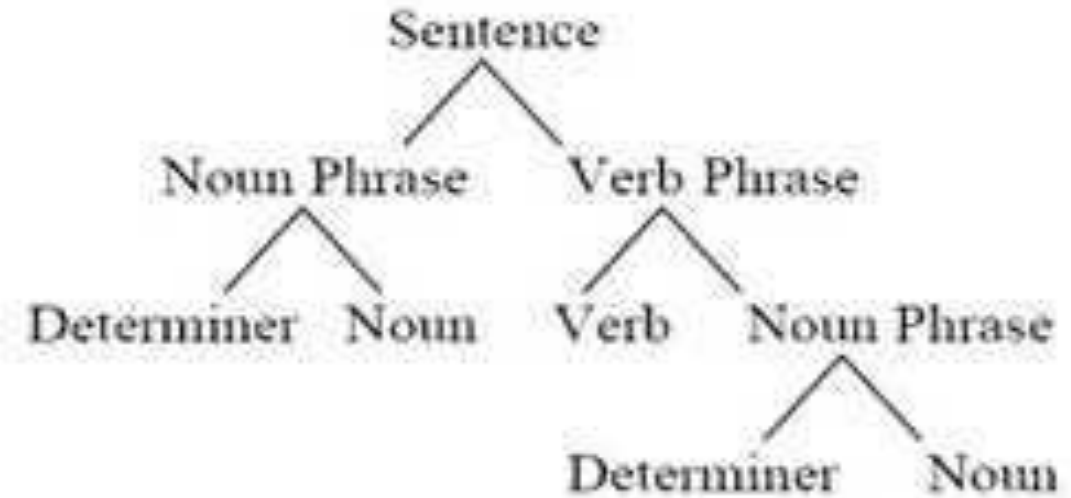

- A. Phonology
- B. Morphology
-  C. Semiotics
- D. Semantics
- E. Syntax

Semiotics is the study of the use of symbolic communication.

TEACHER

105. Which of the following sentences matches the sentence structure in the diagram?

A. He wanted to do homework.

B. She did the homework.

C. The girl wanted to do the homework.

D. The boy did the homework.

E. The teacher went home early after her last subject.

TEACHER

106. Which sentence is an example of hypercorrection?

- A. The meal was just right for you and I.
- B. You and I had a great time at dinner.
- C. Our friends waited until you and I got there.
- D. Our friends are just right for you and me.
- E. You and I are true friends for life.

TEACHER

A hypercorrection is the incorrect use or pronunciation of a word based on the perception that the hypercorrection is more prestigious, formal, or appropriate.

In many cases, you might make a hypercorrection because you know the rules of your language, but you apply them in more cases than you actually should.

Hypercorrections are innocent mistakes, and ones most of us have been guilty of at some point. But despite our good intentions to sound smarter, hypercorrections can achieve quite the opposite effect if used around someone who knows better.

TEACHER

107. In etymology of words, which of the following words can best be described as a form of drinking substance like wine?

- A. liquor
- B. liquid
- C. water
- D. ice
- E. alcohol

TEACHER

108. Which of the following sentence structures matches the sentence given above?

Listening to the music as a hobby is enjoyable.

- A. Sentence = Noun + Preposition + Determiner + Noun + Conjunction+ Determiner + Noun + Auxiliary Verb + Adjective
- B. Sentence = Noun + Preposition + Auxiliary Verb + Noun + Determiner+ Conjunction + Noun + Verb + Adjective
- C. Sentence = Noun + Preposition + Auxiliary Verb+ Noun + Determiner+ Conjunction + Pronoun + Auxiliary Verb + Adjective
- D. Sentence = Noun + Determiner + Preposition + Noun + Articulation + Determiner + Noun + Verb + Adverb
- E. Sentence = Noun + Preposition + Auxiliary Verb + Noun + Conjunction+ Auxiliary Verb + Noun + Verb + Adjective

TEACHER

109. It is understood but they are not complete sentence.

A. Grammatical Performance

B. Eliptical Sentences

C. Grammatical Competence

D. Run-on

E. Compound Sentences

TEACHER

110. In the teaching behavior, it includes what the teacher says, since instruction, most of the time, is done through speech.

- A. Expressive Behavior
- B. Performatory Behavior
-  C. Linguistic Behavior
- D. Language Behavior
- E. Teaching Behavior

TEACHER

111. It is a visual model and a pictorial device that presents the bands of experience arranged according to degree of abstraction and not the degree of difficulty.

A. Bloom's Taxonomy of Learning

B. Dale's Cone of Experience

C. Bruner's 3-Tiered Model of Learning

D. Gagne's Outcomes of Learning

E. Carrol's Model of School Learning

TEACHER

CONE OF EXPERIENCE

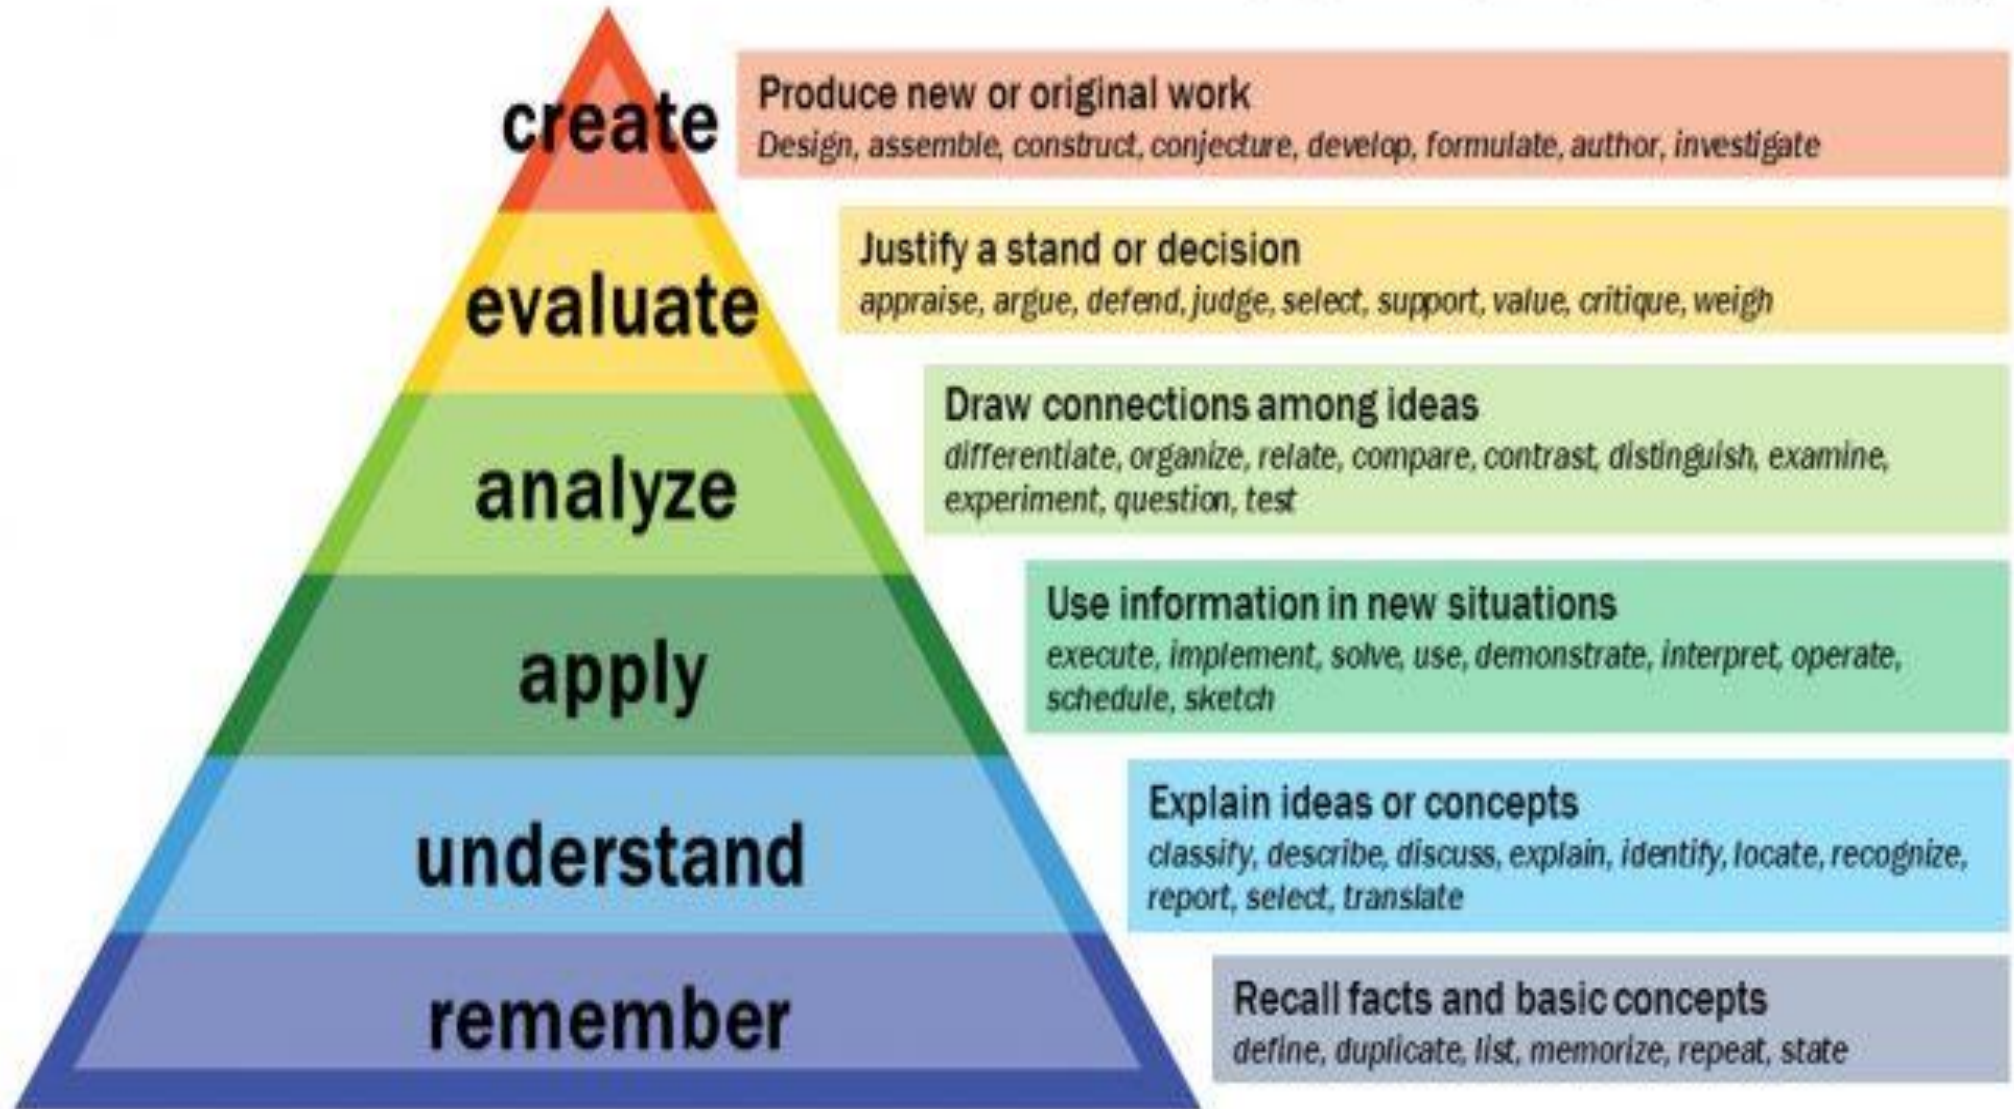

The more senses that are involved in learning, the more and the better the learning will be. A balance must be achieved to address the holistic development of learners.

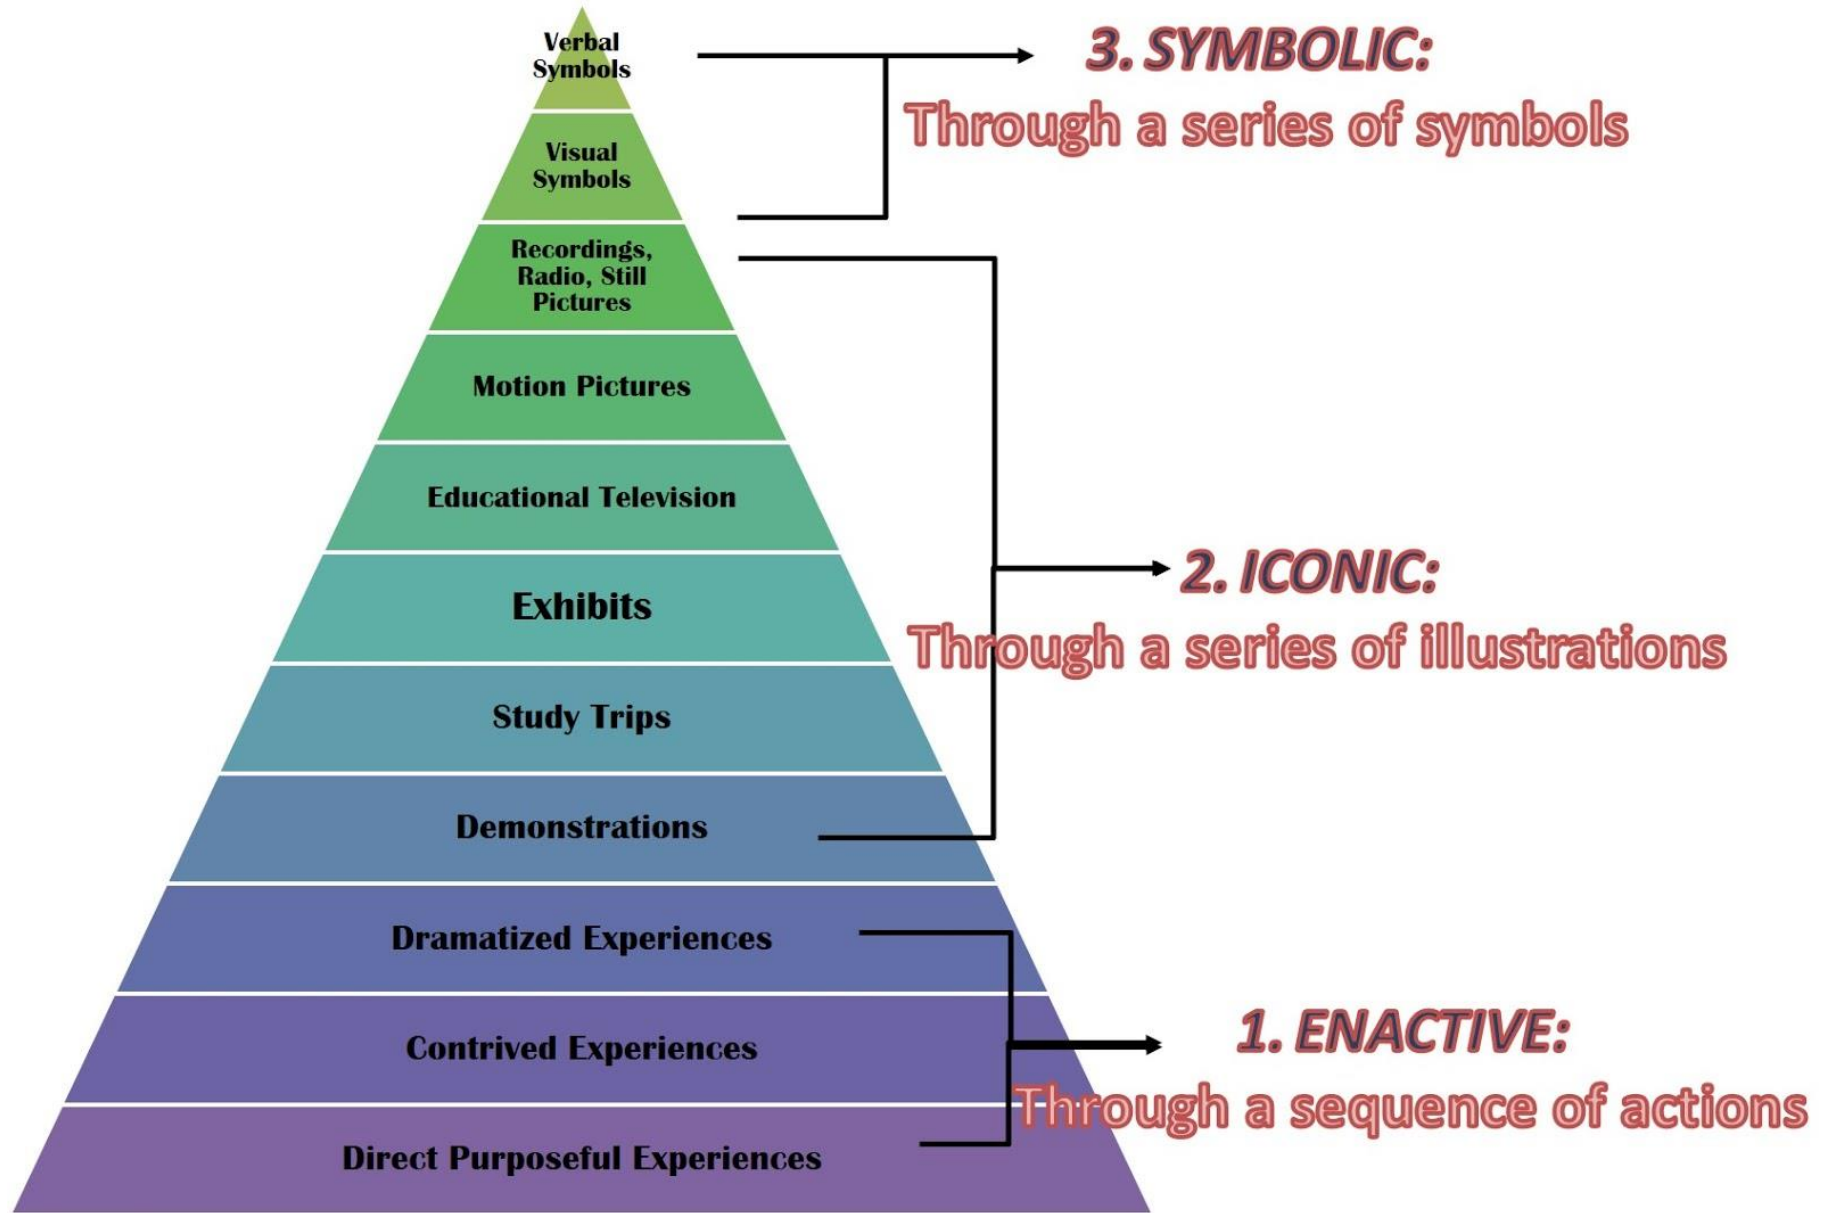

TEACHER

Bloom's Taxonomy

TEACHER

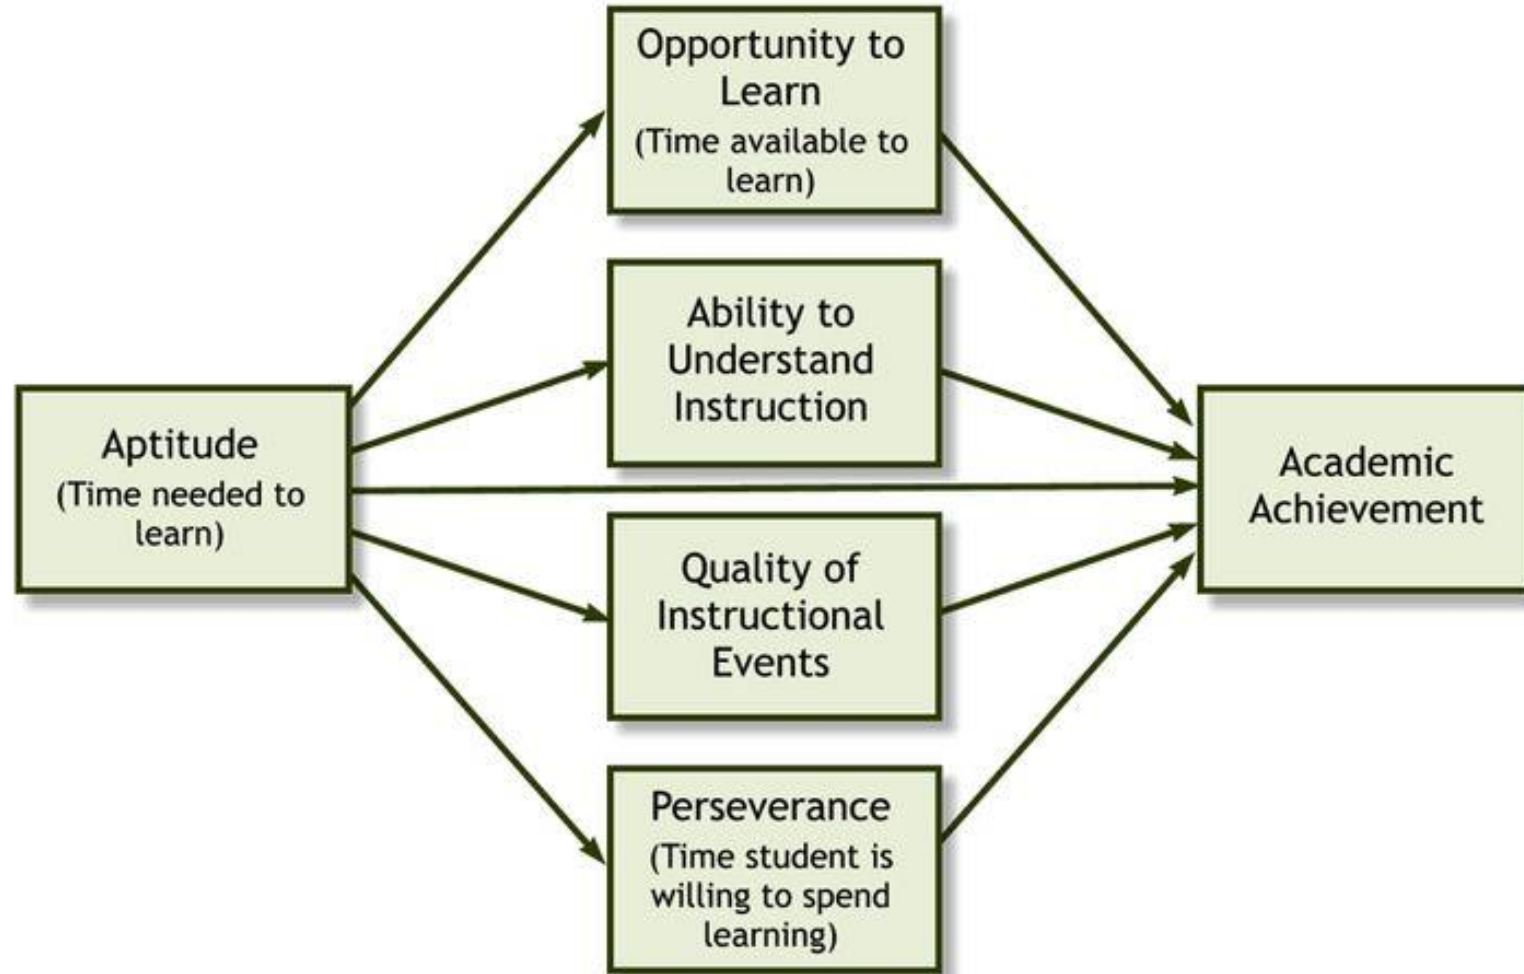

TEACHER

Learning outcome	Definition
1) Verbal Information	Stating previously learned materials such as facts, concepts, principles and procedures.
2) Intellectual skills
Discrimination	Distinguishing objects, features, or symbols
Concrete concepts	Identifying classes of concrete objects, features, or events e.g., colors, shapes
Defined concepts	Classifying new examples of events or ideas by their definition must be identified by means of definition
Rules	Applying a single relationship to solve a class of problems e.g., constructing grammatical sentences
Higher order rules	Applying a new combination of rules to solve a complex problem
3) Cognitive strategies	Employing personal ways to guide learning, thinking, acting, and feeling
4) Attitudes	Choosing personal actions (toward things, persons, or events) based on internal states of understanding and feeling
5) Motor skills	Executing performances involving the use of muscles

TEACHER

Carrol's Model of School Learning

TEACHER

112. According to him, the teacher's role is to guide and facilitate rather than to direct.

A. Howes

B. Jacetot

C. Silberman

D. Patterson

E. Greene

TEACHER

113. Which among the classroom principles is NOT part of the communicative language teaching?

A. An emphasis on the use of interaction in the target language

B. The introduction of authentic texts into a learning situation

C. An enhancement of the learner's personal experiences on the target language

D. The distinction between language acquisition and language learning

TEACHER

114. He is the proponent of the Three-Tiered Model Of Learning.

- A. Jerome Bruner
- B. Edgar Dale
- C. Eliot W. Eisner
- D. Noam Chomsky
- E. Robert Gagne

TEACHER

115. It serves as the foundation of learning; first hand experiences through seeing, touching, tasting and smelling.

A. Contrived Experiences

B. Dramatic Experiences

C. Direct Purposeful Experience

D. Demonstrations

E. Exhibits

TEACHER

116. It serves as representative model or mock-up for reality so as to make the real life accessible to students' perception and understanding.

- A. Contrived Experiences
- B. Dramatic Experiences
- C. Direct Purposeful Experience
- D. Demonstrations
- E. Exhibits

TEACHER

117. These are educational visits to observe event that is unavailable within the classroom.

A. Exhibits

B. Demonstrations

C. Study Trips

D. Visual Symbols

E. Verbal Symbols

TEACHER

118. These are displays for the spectators, consist of working models arranged meaningfully or photographs with models, charts, or posters.

- A. Exhibits
- B. Demonstrations
- C. Study Trips
- D. Visual Symbols
- E. Verbal Symbols

TEACHER

119. These are highly abstract and no longer in realistic reproduction of physical things like charts, graphs, maps and diagrams.

A. Exhibits

B. Demonstrations

C. Study Trips

D. Visual Symbols

E. Verbal Symbols

TEACHER

120. It shows how things are done to visualize explanations to a fact, idea or process by use of photos, drawings, films, displays, or guided motions.

A. Exhibits

B. Demonstrations

C. Study Trips

D. Visual Symbols

E. Verbal Symbols

TEACHER

121. It is the process of gathering data or information to solve a particular or specific problem in scientific manner.

A. Reading

B. Research

C. Demonstration

D. Formulation

E. Explanation

TEACHER

Research Methods

Qualitative

- One-to-one Interview
- Focus Groups
- Ethnographic studies
- Textual Analysis
- Case Study
- Process of observation

Quantitative

- Descriptive Research Design
- Correlational Research Design
- Quasi-experimental Research Design
- Experimental Research Design
- survey

Mixed

- Explanatory Design
- Exploratory Design
- Transformative Design
- Triangulation Design

TEACHER

122. This research studies the relationship of variables.

- A. Quantitative Research
- B. Qualitative Research
-  C. Correlational Research
- D. Historical Research
- E. Experimental Research

TEACHER

123. This asserts that there is no significant difference or relationship between the variables.

A. Explanatory

B. Null Hypothesis

C. Synthesis

D. Conclusion

E. Hypothesis

TEACHER

124. This type of research studies the effects of the variables on each other.

A. Quantitative Research

B. Qualitative Research

C. Descriptive Research

D. Historical Research

 E. Experimental Research

TEACHER

125. It is the process of systematically examining past events to give an account of what has happened in the past.

A. Developmental Research

B. Qualitative Research

C. Descriptive Research

D. Historical Research

E. Experimental Research

TEACHER

126. This uses understanding human behavior and the reason that govern such behavior.

- A. Qualitative Research
- B. Descriptive Research
- C. Developmental Research
- D. Experimental Research
- E. Quantitative Research

TEACHER

127. This serve as answer to the questions raised to the beginning of the investigation.

A. Hypothesis

B. Synthesis

C. Research Problem

D. Conclusion

E. Theoretical Framework

TEACHER

128. It is a document or physical object which was written or created during the time under study.

- A. Primary Sources
- B. Secondary Sources
- C. Related Studies
- D. Related Literature
- E. Research Problem

TEACHER

129. It interprets and analyses the primary source and these sources are one or more steps removed from the event.

A. Primary Sources

B. Secondary Sources

C. Related Studies

D. Related Literature

E. Research Problem

TEACHER

130. It focuses on the discussion regarding a certain phenomena that could be testable descriptively or experimentally.

A. Primary Sources

B. Secondary Sources

C. Related Studies

D. Related Literature

E. Research Problem

TEACHER

131. It is for the reason that students become familiar with many different linguistic forms, communication functions and meanings.

A. Literature for cultural enrichment

B. Literature as a valuable authentic material

C. Literature for language enrichment

D. Literature for personal involvement

E. Literature as a venue for learning for other skills

TEACHER

132. It is for the reason that a work explains how communication takes place in such country.

- A. Literature for cultural enrichment
- B. Literature as a valuable authentic material
- C. Literature for language enrichment
- D. Literature for personal involvement
- E. Literature as a venue for learning for other skills

TEACHER

133. It is for the reason that a text can introduce a wide range of individual lexical or syntactic items.

A. Literature for cultural enrichment

B. Literature as a valuable authentic material

C. Literature for language enrichment

D. Literature for personal involvement

E. Literature as a venue for learning for other skills

TEACHER

134. For this reason, a student begins to inhabit the text or he is drawn into it.

A. Literature for cultural enrichment

B. Literature as a valuable authentic material

C. Literature for language enrichment

D. Literature for personal involvement

E. Literature as a venue for learning for other skills

TEACHER

135. This characteristic is done by establishing lifelong reading habits.

A. Encourages his students to read and motivates a positive outlook towards it.

B. A creative, innovative, inquisitive, and prudent teacher.

C. Practices what he preaches.

D. Establishes an appropriate environment on learning.

E. Appreciate literature as an art.

TEACHER

136. The teacher seems to have read all books and knows what suits the students.

A. Encourages his students to read and motivates a positive outlook towards it.

B. A creative, innovative, inquisitive, and prudent teacher.

C. Practices what he preaches.

D. Establishes an appropriate environment on learning.

E. Appreciate literature as an art.

TEACHER

137. Here, the teacher guides the students as a community of learners to explore and find meaning in their reading.

A. Encourages his students to read and motivates a positive outlook towards it.

B. A creative, innovative, inquisitive, and prudent teacher.

C. Practices what he preaches.

D. Establishes an appropriate environment on learning.

E. Appreciate literature as an art.

TEACHER

138. Here, she has an in-depth knowledge of the subject matter; she observes students' behavior and preferences, gathers data and analyzes the findings to improve learning.

A. Encourages his students to read and motivates a positive outlook towards it.

B. A creative, innovative, inquisitive, and prudent teacher.

C. Practices what he preaches.

D. Establishes an appropriate environment on learning.

E. Appreciate literature as an art.

TEACHER

139. According to surveys, what is the reading interest of high school students today?

- A. Classical or traditional novels
- B. Science fiction, adventure, mystery, sports
- C. Romances, mystery, adventure, among others
-  D. Contemporary novels
- E. All kinds of books

TEACHER

140. What kind of literature do boys prefer to read?

A. Classical or traditional novels

B. Science fiction, adventure, mystery, sports

C. Romances, mystery, adventure, among others

D. Contemporary novels

E. All kinds of books

TEACHER

141. On the other hand, what kind of literature do girls prefer to read?

A. Classical or traditional novels

B. Science fiction, adventure, mystery, sports

C. Romances, mystery, adventure, among others

D. Contemporary novels

E. All kinds of books

TEACHER

142. What is the role of the teacher in literature-based instruction?

- A. He is a decision maker, mentor and coach.
- B. He is an observer.
- C. He is a motivator.
- D. He is a preacher.
- E. He is a listening teacher.

TEACHER

143. When the teacher shows a happy facial expressions, nod, or verbal acknowledgement of a correct response, he

- A. Creates a climate conducive to learning.
- B. Establishes an appropriate environment for learning.
- C. Prepares the students for questioning sessions.
- D. Uses an appropriate variety and mix of questions.
- E. Let them talk and ask for answer to one another.

TEACHER

144. When he explains to the students the format, expectations, and how this knowledge will help them he

- A. Creates a climate conducive to learning.
- B. Establishes an appropriate environment for learning.
-  C. Prepares the students for questioning sessions.
- D. Uses an appropriate variety and mix of questions.
- E. Let them talk and ask for answer to one another.

TEACHER

145. When the teacher incorporates into the educational plan prospectively the questions that are asked during the teaching system, he

- A. Creates a climate conducive to learning.
- B. Establishes an appropriate environment for learning.
- C. Prepares the students for questioning sessions.
-  D. Uses an appropriate variety and mix of questions.
- E. Let them talk and ask for answer to one another.

TEACHER

146. In the teaching of literature, it is an illocutionary act.

A. Motivation

B. Literature

C. Text

D. Drama

E. Question

TEACHER

- Performing action by producing an utterance has three kinds of related acts. Those are:

Locutionary Act	Illocutionary Act/Illocutionary Force	Perlocutionary Act/Perlocutionary Effect
An utterance that produces literal meaning	An utterance which has social function in mind	An utterance that gives an effect to do something

For example: It's hot here.

- Locutionary act: The speaker feels hot in his place.
- Illocutionary act: The utterance has two possible meanings inside
 - An indirect request for someone to open the window.
 - An indirect refusal to close the window because someone is cold
- Perlocutionary act: The hearer will open/close the window

TEACHER

147. It is an indispensable teaching tool.

- A. Questioning
- B. Planning
- C. Evaluation
- D. Comprehension
- E. Application

TEACHER

148. When the literature teacher poses questions to the entire group, he is being

A. Fair to the class

B. Bias to them

C. Makes his class happy

D. Hated by the class

E. Frustrates students and tend to encourage frivolous responses

TEACHER

149. When a teacher asks only “yes or no” questions, he

- A. Use both pre-planned and emerging questions
- B. Develops critical thinking skills among his students
- C. Makes his class happy
- D. Hated by the class
-  E. Frustrates students and tend to encourage frivolous responses

TEACHER

150. Which of the following statements best describes the purpose of questioning?

- A. It encourages the students to speak.
- B. Questioning can arouse curiosity.
- C. It leads the teacher to know their students better.
- D. It can helps them to apply their ideas from their experiences.

E. Both A and C.

TEACHER

151. These are human characters who are mythical mortals having divine father and a mortal mother.

A. Mythology

B. Epics

C. Heroes

D. Anthropomorphic

E. Theriomorphic

TEACHER

152. These are divinities having supernatural powers or meaning in the shape of man.

A. Mythology

B. Epics

C. Heroes

D. Anthropomorphic

E. Theriomorphic

TEACHER

153. These are stories of gods and goddesses that explained natural events.

A. Myths

B. Epics

C. Heroes

D. Anthropomorphic

E. Theriomorphic

TEACHER

154. Mythical beings which include gods and goddesses who resemble animals.

A. Mythology

B. Theriomorphic

C. Heroes

D. Anthropomorphic

E. Epics

TEACHER

155. A knowledge that is transmitted from one generation to another by word of mouth or imitation.

A. Mythology

B. Creation Myths

C. Explanatory Myths

D. Folklore

E. Legend

TEACHER

156. He is the first person to use the term “Folklore”.

A. Homer

B. Stith Thompson

C. William Thoms

D. Max Muller

E. Euhemerus

TEACHER

157. It is said that myths began as allegories for natural phenomena.

A. Euhemerism

B. Allegory

C. Personification

D. Myth-Ritual Theory

E. Malinowski's Theory

TEACHER

For Malinowski, myth deals with social phenomena. In the case of physical phenomena, the beneficiary of myth is the individual. In the case of social phenomena, the beneficiary is society itself.

Philosophies in the Study of Myth

Rationalism - connotes the scrutiny of myths in such a way that it made sense men's contained in them without taking literally the reference to gods monsters or the supernatural.

Euhemerism - named after Euhemerus, a Greek writer flourished about 300 BC, according to which a certain gods were originally great people (kings and heroes) venerated because of their benefaction to mankind.

Ethnology - In the early 18th century Italy, Giambattista Vico, the forerunner of all writers of ethnology, or the study of culture in human societies, built on traditional scholarship - especially in law and philosophy - to make the first clear case for the role of man's imagination in the formation of distinct myths at successive cultural settings.

TEACHER

158. All people recognize that a frontier exists between what man can do and cannot explain logically.

A. Euhemerism

B. Allegory

C. Personification

D. Myth-Ritual Theory

E. Malinowski's Theory

TEACHER

159. In its most extreme form, this theory claims that myth arose to explain rituals.

A. Euhemerism

B. Allegory

C. Personification

 D. Myth-Ritual Theory

E. Malinowski's Theory

TEACHER

160. It is said that myths are distorted accounts of real historical events.

A. Euhemerism

B. Allegory

C. Personification

D. Myth-Ritual Theory

E. Malinowski's Theory

TEACHER

161. It is also known as Theory of Mythopoeic thought resulted from the personification of inanimate objects and forces.

A. Euhemerism

B. Allegory

C. Personification

D. Myth-Ritual Theory

E. Malinowski's Theory

TEACHER

162. Try to explain geographical features such as rivers, lakes and oceans and the death of man.

A. Creation Myths

B. Explanatory Myths

C. Presence of Mythical Beings

D. Mythical Places

E. Mythical Symbols

TEACHER

163. Try to explain the origin of the world and the birth of the gods and goddesses.

A. Creation Myths

B. Explanatory Myths

C. Presence of Mythical Beings

D. Mythical Places

E. Mythical Symbols

TEACHER

164. It is the gods and goddesses who resemble human being.

A. Creation Myths

B. Explanatory Myths

 C. Presence of Mythical Beings

D. Mythical Places

E. Mythical Symbols

TEACHER

165. People use symbols to explain the world and they use humans, animals and plants that symbolize some events.

A. Creation Myths

B. Explanatory Myths

C. Presence of Mythical Beings

D. Mythical Places

E. Mythical Symbols

TEACHER

166. It is the place where demons, gods and goddesses and also the souls of the dead live.

A. Creation Myths

B. Explanatory Myths

C. Presence of Mythical Beings

D. Mythical Places

E. Mythical Symbols

TEACHER

167. It tells the story of heroes in the ancient time.

A. Epics

B. Mystical Function

C. Sociological Function

D. Cosmological Function

E. Pedagogical Function

TEACHER

168. It explains how to live a human life under any circumstances.

A. Epics

B. Mystical Function

C. Sociological Function

D. Cosmological Function

E. Pedagogical Function

TEACHER

169. This function explains the social aspects of human by supporting and validating a certain social order.

A. Epics

B. Mystical Function

 C. Sociological Function

D. Cosmological Function

E. Pedagogical Function

TEACHER

170. It is the function that explains the shape of the universe.

A. Epics

B. Mystical Function

C. Sociological Function

 D. Cosmological Function

E. Pedagogical Function

TEACHER

171. It has experiencing the awe of the universe.

A. Epics

B. Mystical Function

C. Sociological Function

D. Cosmological Function

E. Pedagogical Function

TEACHER

172. He is the supreme ruler of the Olympians and the lord of the sky.

A. Zeus

B. Poseidon

C. Hades

D. Hermes

E. Apollo

TEACHER

173. He is the ruler of the sea and commonly called “Earth Shaker”.

A. Zeus

B. Poseidon

C. Hades

D. Hermes

E. Apollo

TEACHER

174. He is the god of light, medicine and poetry.

A. Zeus

B. Poseidon

C. Hades

D. Hermes

E. Apollo

TEACHER

175. He is the god of the underworld.

A. Zeus

B. Poseidon

C. Hades

D. Hermes

E. Apollo

TEACHER

176. She is the goddess of love.

A. Athena

B. Hera

C. Aphrodite

D. Artemis

E. Hestia

TEACHER

177. She is the protector of marriage and women and Zeus' sister and wife.

A. Athena

B. Hera

C. Aphrodite

D. Artemis

E. Hestia

TEACHER

178. She is the goddess of hunting and childbirth.

A. Athena

B. Hera

C. Aphrodite

D. Artemis

E. Hestia

TEACHER

179. She is the goddess of crafts, war and wisdom.

A. Athena

B. Hera

C. Aphrodite

D. Artemis

E. Hestia

TEACHER

180. In Roman Mythology, he is the ruler of the gods.

A. Saturn

B. Jupiter

C. Mercury

D. Mars

E. Bacchus

TEACHER

Which part of the sentence is erroneous?

181. My friends and my neighbors cooperates in the livelihood project. No error.

A

B

C

D

E

TEACHER

Which part of the sentence is erroneous?

182. Either Porfirito or the engineers extends assistance to the aged and the sick.

A

B

C

D

No error.

E

TEACHER

Which part of the sentence is erroneous?

183. President De Leon present

A

B

the accomplishments of the University annually.

C

D

No error.

E

TEACHER

Which part of the sentence is erroneous?

184. I am sorry. I am already tired. I cannot walk any further. No error.

A

B

C

D

E

TEACHER

Which part of the sentence is erroneous?

185. Several was invited but few attended the birthday party. No error.

A

B

C

D

E

TEACHER

186. The following statements about communication are true except one.

A. Communication is a continuous process.

B. Communication is a multilevel of activity.

C. Communication is unpredictable.

D. Messages, not meanings are communicated.

E. Every communication has two messages, a content message and a relational message.

TEACHER

187. It is the most effective medium of communication.

A. Act of Speech

B. Listening

C. Language

D. Speech

E. Communication

TEACHER

188. It is the process of shaping the words, the sounds into voice and the energy to interpret by means of speech organs.

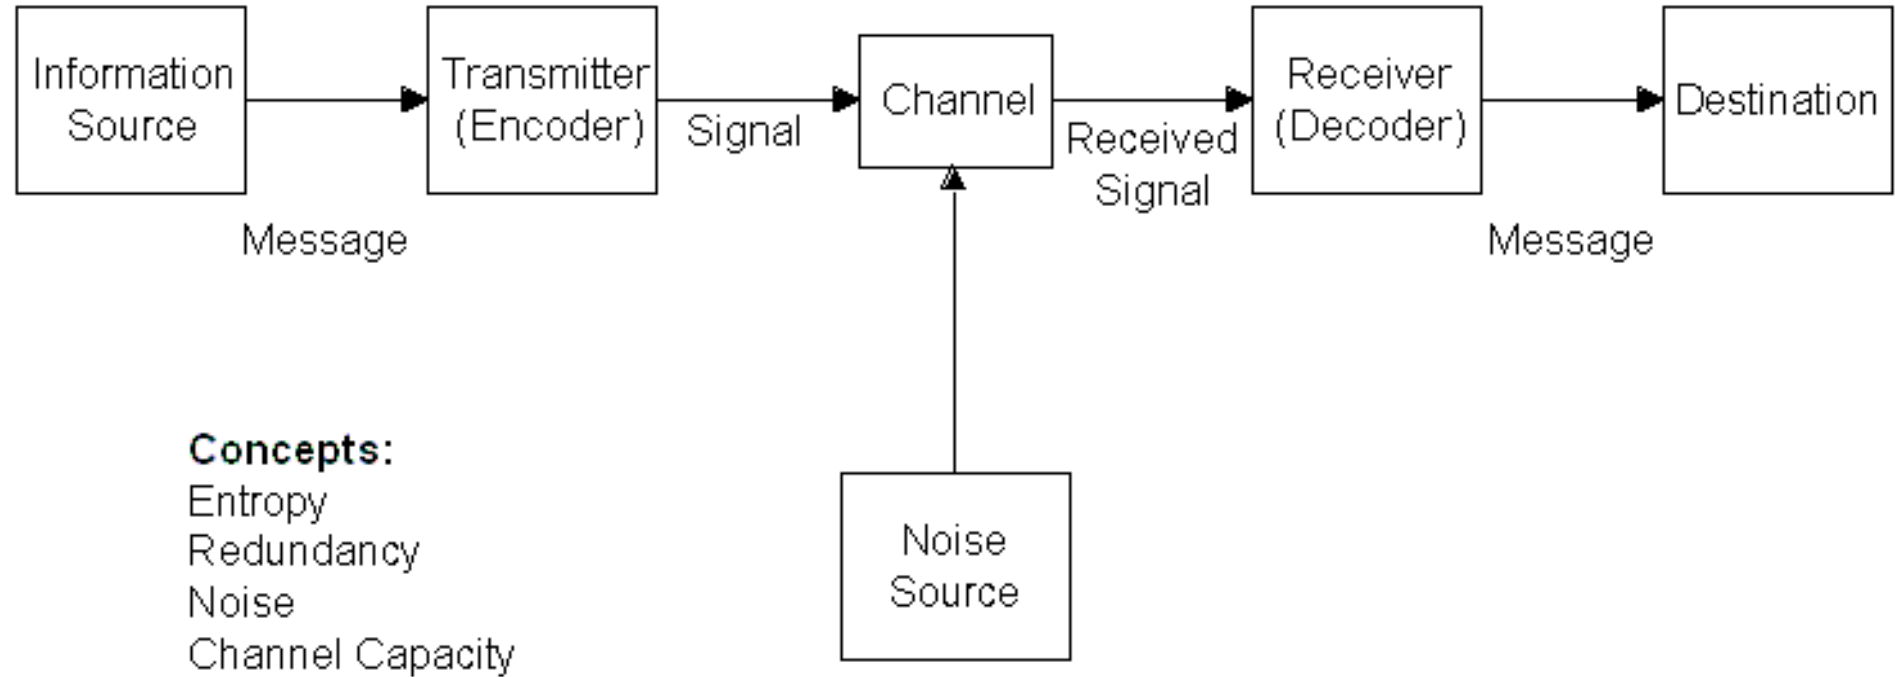

- A. Language
- B. Communication
- C. Act of Speech
-  D. Speech
- E. Listening

TEACHER

Directions: Identify the name of the communication model shown in the figure by choosing the letter of the correct answer.

189.

A. Dance's Helical Model

B. Ruesh and Bateson Functional Model

C. Shannon-Weaver Model

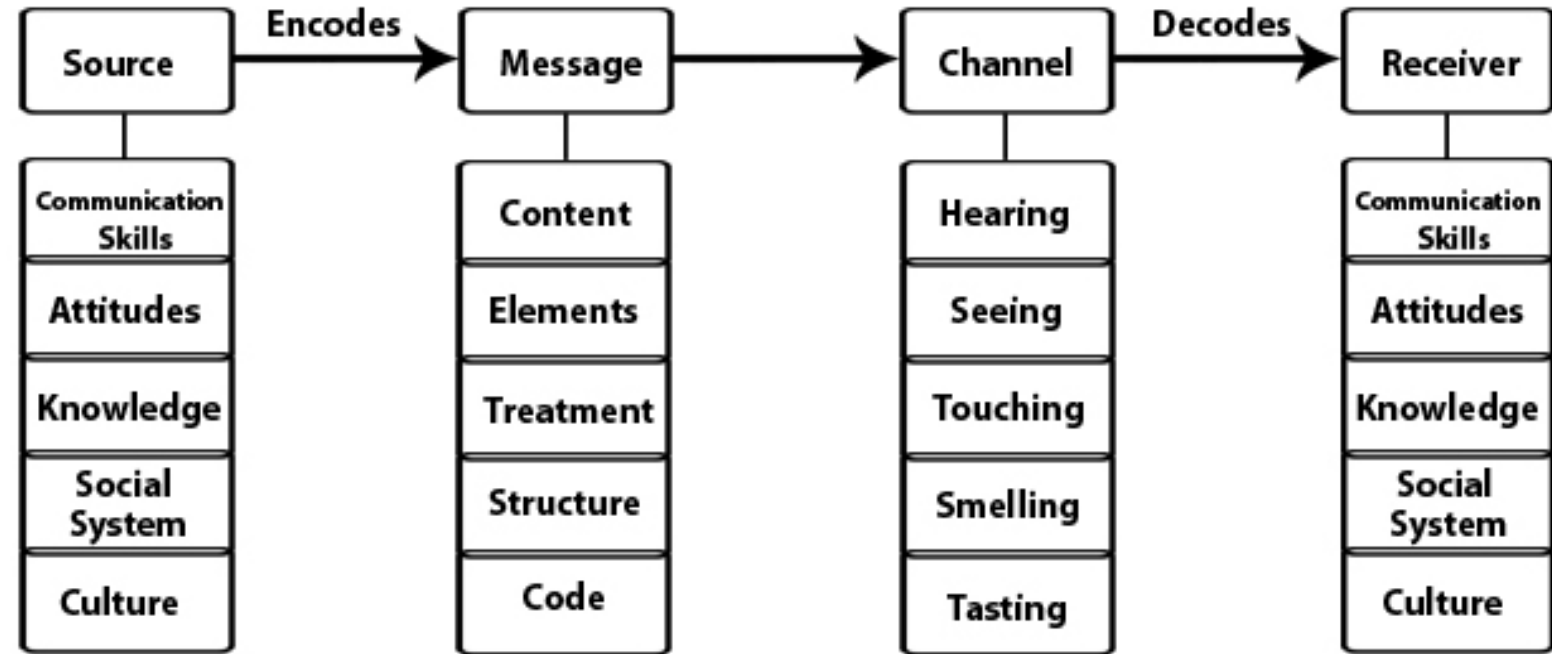

D. Osgood and Schramm's Interactive Model

E. Berlow's SMCR Model

TEACHER

190.

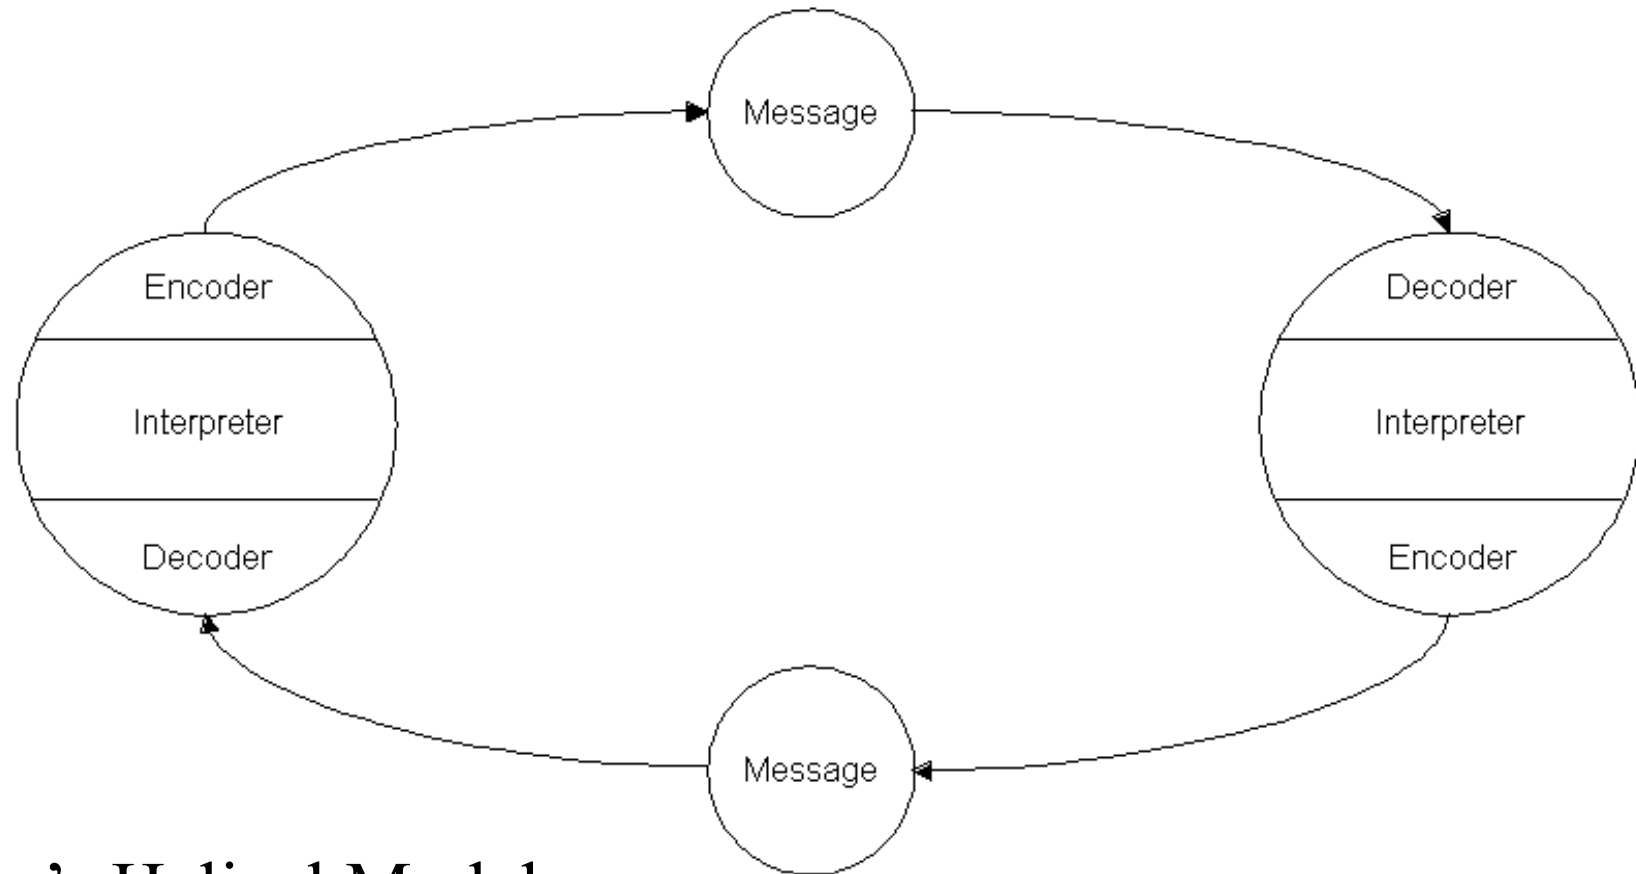

- A. Dance's Helical Model
- B. Ruesh and Bateson Functional Model
- C. Shannon-Weaver Model
- D. Osgood and Schramm's Interactive Model
- E. Berlow's SMCR Model

TEACHER

191.

A. Dance's Helical Model

B. Ruesh and Bateson Functional Model

C. Shannon-Weaver Model

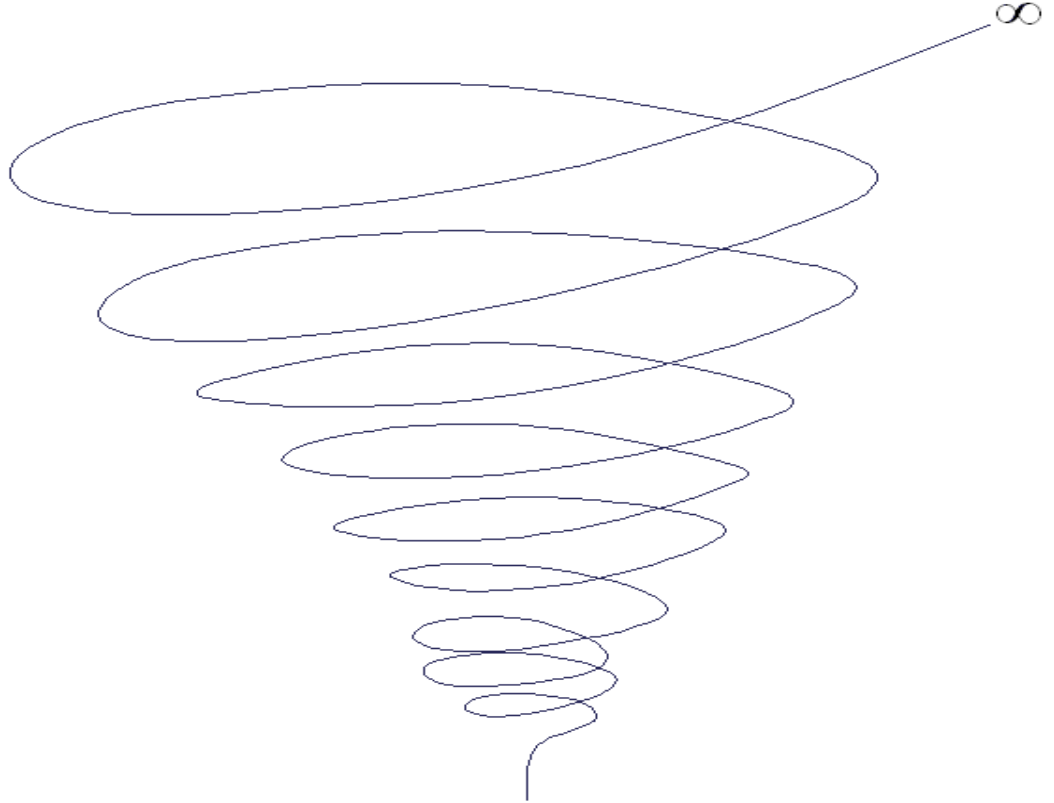

D. Osgood and Schramm's Interactive Model

E. Berlow's SMCR Model

TEACHER

192.

- A. Dance's Helical Model
- B. Ruesh and Bateson Functional Model
- C. Shannon-Weaver Model
- D. Osgood and Schramm's Interactive Model
- E. Berlow's SMCR Model

TEACHER

Directions: Read the following poem of Sappho. Use the theory of Longinus in analyzing its content and structure. Then synthesize its pronouncements/stand in the art of poetic aesthetics.

TEACHER

Ode to a Loved One

- (1) He appears to me like unto the gods,
(2) That man, who opposite you
(3) Sits and to you speaking a sweet word.
(4) He replies,
(5) To your lovely daughter. Truly that
(6) Flutters my heart in my breast
(7) For when I look at you for a moment'
(8) I can not speak.
(9) But my tongue is broken right then
(10) Over my skin a light fire races,
(11) I see nothing with my ears, my ears rumble,
(12) And sweat pours over my trembling
(13) Seizes me entire, greener than grass
(14) I am, Just about to die

(15) I see to me.

TEACHER

193. The first line of the poem uses

A. Metaphor

B. Irony

C. Simile

D. Personification

E. Anti-thesis

TEACHER

194. How many characters are interesting in the poem?

A. one

B. two

 C. three

D. four

E. more than four

TEACHER

195. How does the persona to whom the poet is addressing affect the latter?

A. The poet feels happy

B. The poet feels angry

C. The poet feels guilty

 D. The poet feels jealous

E. The poet feels envious

TEACHER

196. The poem addressed to a _____.

A. man

B. woman

C. both man and woman

D. Sappho

E. Does not tell

TEACHER

197. What vehement emotions are expressed by the poem in lines 13 and 14?

A. love

B. jealousy

C. awe

D. envy

E. anger

TEACHER

Directions: Read the excerpt. Answer the questions after it by encircling your choice.

“I like the one who fights back, he said, pleased with himself, “At least, my son-in-law is going to stand up and fight”... You wonder why can I talk freely? I have influence and, most important, money. These give me a sense of true freedom. I see nothing wrong in appreciating money. Every priests appreciate money.”

- Excerpt from The Pretenders

TEACHER

198. The trait of the persona as suggested by the excerpt is _____.

A. courage

B. tolerance

C. pride

D. self-sufficiency

E. arrogance

TEACHER

199. The last sentence implies _____.

A. Some priests love money

B. Some priests are corrupt

C. Some priests accept gifts without discrimination where it came

D. Some priests are good-natured naturally

E. Some priests are powerful

TEACHER

200. The mood expressed by the above quotation is _____.

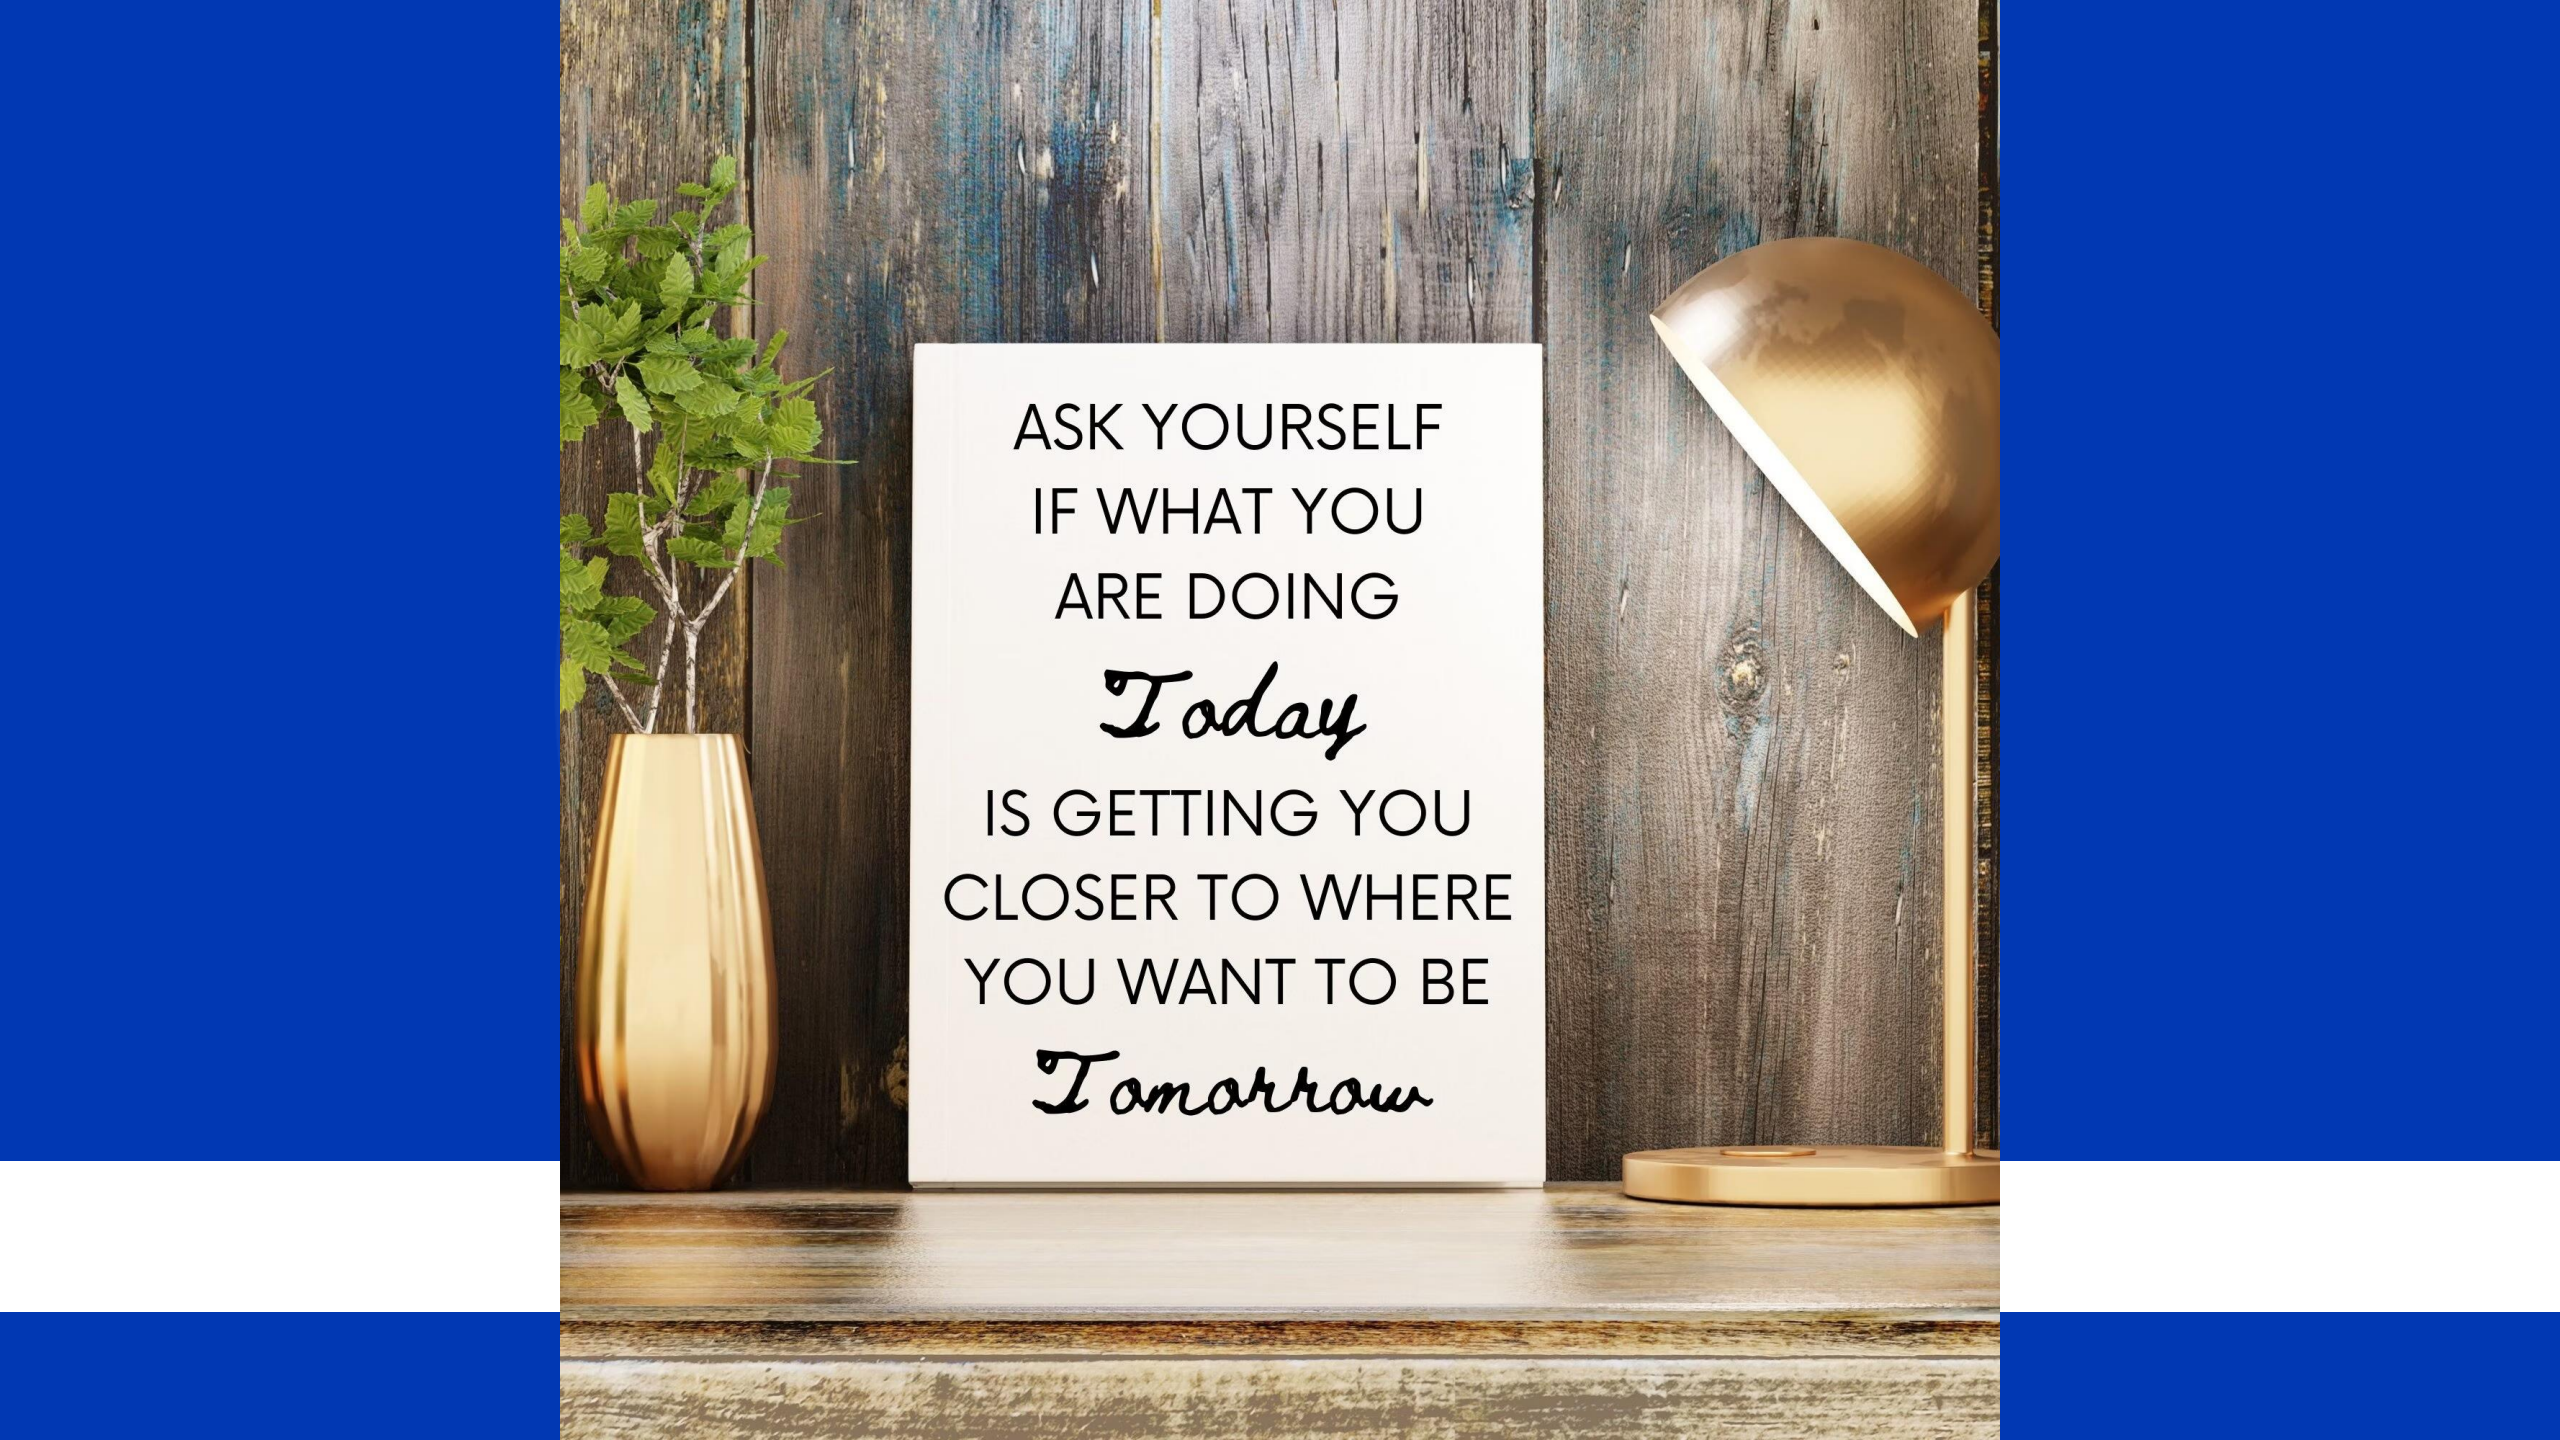

A. assertiveness

B. joyful

C. frustration

D. anger

E. sadness

The image features a central white rectangular card with a motivational quote. The card is placed on a rustic wooden surface against a background of vertical wooden planks. To the left of the card is a tall, slender brass vase containing a small green plant. To the right is a modern brass desk lamp with a semi-circular shade. The entire scene is framed by solid blue borders on the left and right sides, and white borders at the top and bottom.

ASK YOURSELF
IF WHAT YOU ARE DOING Today
IS GETTING YOU CLOSER TO WHERE YOU WANT TO BE Tomorrow

“Where a Dreamer Becomes an Achiever”