→ Levels of Technology Integration into the Curriculum

Characteristics of the Learning Environment ↓

Technology Integration Matrix Click on a matrix cell to view videos and sample lesson plans.	Entry The teacher uses technology to deliver curriculum content to students.	Adoption The teacher directs students in the conventional use of tool-based software. If such software is available, this level is recommended.	Adaptation The teacher encourages adaptation of tool-based software by allowing students to select a tool and modify its use to accomplish the task at hand.	Infusion The teacher consistently provides for the infusion of technology tools with understanding, applying, analyzing, and evaluating learning tasks.	Transformation The teacher cultivates a rich learning environment, where blending choice of technology tools with student-initiated investigations, discussions, compositions, or projects, across any content area, is promoted.

PQF Quick Facts

WHAT

It is a reference-system of national standards of qualifications earned by individuals educated and trained in the Philippines.

WHO

It is governed by the PQF National Coordinating Council (PQF NCC) composed of the Department of Education (DepEd), Commission on Higher Education (CHED), Technical Education and Skills Development Authority (TESDA), Professional Regulations Commission (PRC) and Department of Labor and Employment (DOLE).

FOR

It is for employers, workers, teachers and learners, parents and governments who wish to understand Philippine qualifications and compare them with others.

WHY

Its objective is to establish national standards and levels of qualifications to assist and support academic and worker mobility and to address jobskills mismatch.

HOW

It outlines what an individual has learned and can do based on qualification type, levels and degrees of competency.
