GENERAL EDUCATION NOTES

B. Intellectual Competencies (60)

SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY, AND SOCIETY

Concepts in Science and Technology

1. Science

systematic process of obtaining knowledge
Scientia – latin (knowledge)

2. Technology

Application of scientific knowledge
Techne and Logos – Greek

Science as a Method

1. Observation that leads to problem/question
2. Research
3. Formulate Hypothesis
4. Experiment
5. Conclusion
6. Share/Communication

Science as a Social Endeavor

1. Inspire and motivate
2. Facilitate specialization
3. Stimulate problem
4. Divide labor
5. Balance possible biases

ST and Nation Building

Nation Building – building the different aspects of the nation

Role of ST: Research and Development

Importance of ST

1. Wealth Creation
2. Improvement of the Quality of Life
3. Societal Transformation
4. Economic Growth

History of Science and Technology

Ancient: Three-Stone Age System

tools development stage

1. Stone Age

- Weapons are made of stones (Neanderthals and Demisorous)

Paleolithic (Old Stone Age)	Hunters and gatherers of foods Nomadic and the one who controlled fire. Homo Habilis – Handy Man Homo Erectus – Fire
Mesolithic Age (Middle Stone Age)	Hunters and gardeners Agriculture Transition period

Neolithic Age
(New Stone Age)

Permanent Settlers

Agriculture and Domestic animals
Advanced stone tools – axe
Farming, home construction and arts

2. Bronze Age

- Bronze and Copper
- Smelting – process of extracting metals
- Sumerians – blending copper and tin
 - o Cuneiform – oldest writing system from Sumerian civilization
 - o Epic of Gilgamesh
- Sumer and Babylonia (Mesopotamia)
 - o Code of Hammurabi
- Athens (Greece)

3. Iron Age

- Hittites – steel (iron and carbon)
- Mass production and major advancements in warfare.
- Persian – first to develop steel in the world

Antiquity Period (600 BCE – 529 BCE)

- Rise of Greek Civilization
- Natural Philosophers – first scientists

1. Pre-Socratic Method

Thales of Miletus	Earth is floating in water
Anaximander	Apeiron – infinite substance First Cartographer
Anaximenes	Air is the primary element/substance
Heraclitus	Fire (change is the essence of all being)
Leucippus	Introduced the first idea of Atom (indivisible)
Democritus	Coined atoms (Atomos – solid and indestructible particles)
Pythagoras	Earth is sphere Pythagorean School – universe as forms and numbers.
Hippocrates	Father of Medicine Hippocratic Oath – separation of medicines from religion.

2. Socratic Period (Golden Age)

Socrates	Socratic Method Dialogue
Plato	Academy Element – four substances Abstract Geometry Models (Platonic Models) Fire – 4 faces (tetrahedron) Air – 8 faces (octahedron) Water – 20 faces (icosahedron) Earth – 6 faces (hexahedron) Aether – 12 faces (dodecahedron)

Aristotle	Father of Biology Father of Classical Taxonomy Lyceum Elements undergo changes Observation through senses Inductive Method – Specific to General
Aristarchus	Sun-centered universe (Heliocentrism)
Claudius Ptolemy	Earth-centered (Geocentrism) Size of the earth and distance from the moon.
Herophilus	Father of Anatomy (Study of Body Parts)
Erasistratus	Father of Physiology (Study of Function of Organs)
Euclid	Father of Modern Geometry
Archimedes	Father of Mathematics

Roger Bacon	Use Experimentation of New Knowledge Clap Rotation -Three Field (Fallow) Water Wheel – source of mechanical power Black Death – 2 nd Bubonic Plague Pandemic 20 million casualties Yersinia Pesris – plas carried by black rats
--------------------	--

Renaissance (1453-1659 AD)

- Perform experimentation

Francis Bacon	Scientific Method
Johannes Gutenberg	Printing Press Bible – most printed book
Leonardo Da Vinci	Cathedral, Aging of War Canal Locks Inertia Parachutes Helicopter

Modern Period

- Scientific Revolution

Nicolas Copernicus	Proposed the Theory on Heliocentrism Revolutionionitus cerbuna celestium
Galileo Galilei	First Scientist of Scientific Revolution Law of Motion (Force Causes Acceleration) Pendulum and Thermometer Dialogue Concerning Two New Science – last published work
Hanns Licen	Invented Telescope Galilei – uses telescope to validate Copernican System Craters of Moon Moons of Jupiter Phases of Venus Stars of the Milky Way Sunspots
Johannes Kepler	Planetary Motion 1. Law of Ellipses – orbit is elliptical 2. Law of Equal Areas – speed at which it travels Perihelion – near sun (faster) Aphelion – far from sun (slower) 3. Law of Period of Time
Tycho Brahe	Super Nova Geo-Heliocentric Universe 1572 – positions of 777 stars Distance of the Comets through Parallax

Middle Ages (Medieval Period) (416 AD – 1450 AD)

- Fall of Roman Empire and Beginning of Renaissance Period
- Birth of Ideas

1. Early Dark Ages – 476-1000

Slow progress of Science in Europe

Islamic Empire – most advanced civilization

Arabic Science	Preservation and Translation of Ptolemaic Astronomy. Toledan Table (Al Zarkali) predicts the movement of the Sun, Moon, and Planets Borax (B4O7Na2) Ammonium Chloride (sal-ammonia) Science of Anatomy didn't progress
Chinese Science	Gun Powder (serendipity) Serendipity – accidental discovery Paper Mechanical Clock Compass – reliable navigation
Indian Science	Science and Mathematics Zero in Mathematics Decimal System

2. High-Middle Dark Age (1000-1450)

- Rebirth of Science in Europe
- Questioning of Aristotelian Teaching

St. Thomas of Aquinas	Scholasticism – alignment of Science and Religion Reconcile Teaching

Estrada	RA 8749 – Clean Air Act RA 9792 – Electronic Commerce
Aquino	National Scientists Gavino Trono – 25 species of algae/ice-ice disease seaweeds Angel Alcala – marine biology researches Ramon Barba - simple method for inducing early flowering in mango plants. Edgardo Gomez – national-scale assessment of damage to coral reefs Abelardo Aguilar – erythromycin (substitute to penicillin) Fe Del Mundo – kawayan incubator Gregorio Zara – videophone Diwata I Satellite - Microsatellites
Duterte	Ambisyon 2040 Malasakit Pagbabago Kaunlaran Diwata II Satellite (2018) -microsatellite Maya I-IV – Nanosatellite
Marcos, Jr.	Maya V-VI

Science, Technology, and Society

Flourishing – highest good to achieve his/her goals

Success as a human being – Good

Eudaemonia – describes flourishing

1. Western Flourishing – individual good
2. Eastern Flourishing – community good

Good Life

1. Moral Life (Socrates)
2. Life of Pleasure (Epicurus)
3. Fulfilled Life (Aristotle)
4. Meaningful Life
5. Finished Life

Materialism	Comfort, pleasure, and wealth (Leucippus and Democritus)
Stoicism	Asserts virtue is happiness Attained by careful practice of apathy (Zeno of Citium)
Theism (Mono- or Poly-)	One or More Gods Omniscient – all knowing Omnipotent – all powerful Omnipresent – all pervasive
Humanism	Humans have rights and responsibilities to save their own lives and others

Science and Technology

Nipkow	Electronic Telescope
Swinton and Rosing	Mechanical and Electronic TV
Martin Cooper	Mobile Phone (Motorola)
Charles Babbage	Father of Modern Computer
Osborne	First Laptop

Robots

Programmable with autonomy

Autonomous Mobile Robot	Decision in real time
Articulated Robot	Human Arm
Automated Guided Vehicles	self-propelled vehicles with movement guided by software and sensors.
Humanoids	Human-centric functions
Cobots	a robot intended for direct human-robot interaction within a shared space, or where humans and robots are in close proximity.
Hybrid	Complex

Ethical Dilemmas Concerning Artificial Intelligence

1. Privacy and Surveillance
2. Manipulator of Behaviors (nudges)
3. Opacity of AI System (lack of due process)
4. Bias in decision system
5. Human-Robot Interaction
6. Automation and Employment (Job Polarization)
7. Autonomous Systems
8. Machine Ethics
9. Artificial Moral Agents
10. Singularity

Information Age

1. 21st Century – Computer Age (rapid shift from traditional- industrial)

Ages of Information

1. Pre-Mechanical Period (3000 BC-1950 AD)
2. Mechanical Period (1450-1840)
3. Electro-Mechanical Period (1840-1940)
4. Electronic/Information Period (1940-present)

Advantages of Living in the IT Era

1. Collaboration
2. Communication
3. Cost-Effectiveness
4. Creation of New Jobs

Genetic Science

Gene – basic unit of heredity

Gene Therapy – correcting some mutations (medical purposes)

1. In vivo – inside the patient's body
2. Ex vivo – outside the body (laboratory)

Diseases

1. CRISPR – sickle-cell anemia
2. CAR-T Cell Therapy – Leukemia
3. Luxturna – retina dystrophy
4. Spinraza – Spiral Muscle Atrophy

Genetic Engineering

1. BT Corn – pest resistance
2. Rainbow Papaya – Virus Resistance
3. Round-up Ready Graybean – Herbicide
4. Golden Rice – Fortification
5. Arctic Apple – Cosmetic Preservation
6. Aqua Advantage Salmon – Increase Growth

Risk

1. Risk in Gene Flow
2. Recombination of Viruses and Bacteria (New Pathogens)
3. Emergence of Superweeds

Holocene/Anthropocene/6th Mass Extinction

reduction in biodiversity

Threats

1. Global Climate Change
2. Habitual Loss and Destruction
3. Pollution and contamination
4. Alteration in Ecosystem Composition (Alien Invasion)
5. Over exploitation
6. Other potential traits

Nori Taniguchi – coined nanotechnology

Eric Dexter – Wrote Nanosystems: Molecular Machinery, Manufacturing, and Computation

GENERAL EDUCATION NOTES

B. Intellectual Competencies (60)

PURPOSIVE COMMUNICATION IN ENGLISH

Purposive Communication

→ about writing, speaking and presenting

Understanding 21st Century Communication

Communication Processes, Principles and Ethics

Language

→ method of human communication (either written or spoken)

- Language Acquisition - natural way; children learn their native language
- Language Learning - learning a new language; there is a facilitator of learning
- Language Contact - when speakers of two or more languages or varieties interact and influence each other
- Language Change - languages change as we constantly interact with each other

Communication

- Latin - “communicare” - “to share” or “to make common”
- process of understanding and sharing meaning
- creating and interpreting messages to elicit a response
- exchange of information, ideas, thoughts and feelings

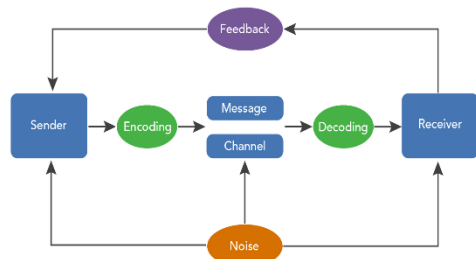

Nature of Communication

- It is much more than words
- It is a process
- It is between two or people

Importance of the Communication Process (Bhasin, 2021)

- It develops coordination
- Its function in an organization is elemental
- It contributes to effective and efficient decision making
- It increases managerial efficiency
- It promotes overall organizational peace and cooperation
- It boosts morale of all employees and promotes healthy working environment

Elements of Communication

- Sender - crafts message, idea, or information
- Encoding - converting ideas or thoughts into symbols
- Message - the information, idea, thought etc. that speaker wants to convey; heart of communication; written, verbal or non-verbal
- Channel - means of transmission or distribution of message
- Transmitting/ Transmission - how sender conveys message through channel
- Interference - hindrance that prevents effective communication — noise, barrier, block etc.

Kinds of Barriers:

1. Psychological - thoughts that hamper the message
 2. Physiological - person's health and fitness
 3. Linguistic - differences in word usage
 4. Cultural - misunderstanding cause by cultural differences
 5. Physical - environment factors
 6. Mechanical - flaw in machinery, instrument or channel
 7. Semantic - differences in meaning
- Decoding - receiver's mental processing of interpreting into meaning
 - Receiver - for whom the message was created
 - Feedback - the receiver's response or reaction to sender's message — paralanguage - sounds; suprasegmental - intonation, stress; facial expressions; body language words; or even silence
 - Environment - physical and psychological space — location, time, temperature, and event
 - Context - common and shared understanding of the situation — topic, culture, relationship; something abstract

Classification of Communication

1. According to Mode

- Verbal (oral and written)
- Non-Verbal (body language, hand gestures, and facial expressions)
- Visual (illustrations, charts, photos, drawings and maps)

2. According to Context

- Intrapersonal - within an individual
- Interpersonal - among people; dyadic (two people); small group (3 or more)
- Extended communication - mediated; technological tools
- Organizational communication - business environments
- Intercultural communication - among people with diverse culture
- Mass communication - to large audiences through different modes

3. According to Purpose and Style

- Formal - carefully thought to selected audience
- Informal - casual and takes place in ordinary conversations

Principles of Interpersonal Communication

Communication is . . .

- Inevitable - all actions communicate
- Irreversible - cannot take back
- Complex - interpret meanings from symbol
- Contextual - diverse meanings — psychological; relational; situational; and cultural

Structure of Communication

- Vertical - different positions
 1. Downward - superior to subordinate
 2. Upward - subordinate to superior
- Horizontal - among members/same positions

Forms of Nonverbal Communication

1. Kinesics - body movement
2. Oculesics - eye movement
3. Haptics - touch
4. Proxemics - distance
5. Chronemics - time

Grapevine Communication (Organizational)

- Single strand chain - passing information through a line of persons to the ultimate recipient
- Gossip chain - only one person seeks and tells the information to everyone
- Probability chain - random process in which someone transmits information from person to person
- Cluster chain - a person tells the information to the selected people who will pass the information to other selected people

General Principles of Effective Communication

(Madrurnio and Martin, 2018)

1. Purpose
2. Audience
3. Topic
4. Adjustment
5. Feedback

Principles of Effective Communication

(Kapur, 2020)

1. Trustworthiness
2. Effective speaking skills
3. Active listening
4. Good Writing skills
5. Good reading skills
6. Objective judgement
7. Value difference
8. No assumptions
9. Authenticity

The 7 Cs of Effective Communication

1. Clarity - clear; easy to understand
2. Conciseness - stick to the point and brief
3. Concreteness - provide details (not too much) and vivid facts
4. Correctness - accurate and grammatically correct
5. Coherence - smooth flow of message
6. Completeness - include all the necessary information
7. Courteousness - polite, friendly, professional, open and honest

Ethical Considerations in Communication

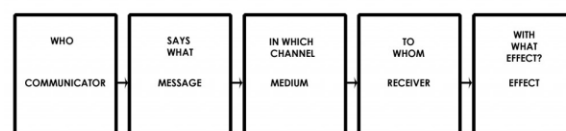

1. Respectful of their audiences
2. Considerate of the consequence of their communication
3. Truthful
4. Efficient in using information
5. Watchful of falsified information
6. Respectful of the rights of others to information

Models of Communication

1. Linear Model - one way process with no external feedback
 - a. Aristotle's Model (300 B.C.) - communication model which can be use to develop public speaking skills or to create propaganda

- b. Lasswell's Model (1948) - “In which channel”; act of communication defining who said it, what was said, in what channel it was said, to whom it was said and with what effect it was said

- c. Shannon and Weaver's Model (1949) - “Mathematical theory of communication”; human communication can be broken down into 6 concepts: source, encoder, medium, decoder, receiver, and noise

- d. Berlo's SMCR Model (1960) - process of communication according to sender, message, channel and receiver

- b. Dance's helical Model (1967) - disagrees about concept about linearity and circularity; introduced concept of time and continuous communication process; endless spiral of increasing complexity

2. Interactional Model - two-way process; mechanical and delayed feedback; message from sender to receiver and vice versa

- a. Schramm's Model (1949) - views communication as a process; added the notion of field of experience theory (mutual understanding of both parties)

- b. Osgood-Schramm's Model (1954) - a.k.a circular model messages; can go in two directions

3. Transactional Model - two-way process; it has direct and immediate feedback

- a. White's Model (1949) - there are eight stages in oral communication process: thinking, symbolizing, expressing, transmitting, receiving, decoding, feedbacking, also monitoring; communication is a sequential process

- c. Barnlund's Model (1970) - multi-layered feedback system; anyone can be a sender or receiver anytime; shared field of experience

Communication and Globalization

- Globalization - interconnectedness
 - Local - communication with the members of one's local area
 - Global - connect across geographic, political, economic, social and cultural respect
- Global village - coined by Marshall McLuhan; different parts of the world form one community linked together;

Cultural Barrier to Effective Communication

→ misunderstanding caused by cultural differences

1. Cultural relativism - cultural norms and values
2. Lack of knowledge of other's culture - behaviors and beliefs; signs and symbols
3. Discrimination harassment - stereotypes and prejudices
4. Language differences - contextual words

Strategies to Become an Effective Global Communicator

1. Mindful presence
2. Mindful listening
3. Mindful speech
4. Unconditional friendliness
5. Mindful responsiveness

Local and Global Communication

Communication In Multicultural Settings

→ society that contains several cultural or ethnic group

Socio-Cultural Aspects of Communication

(Dapat, et al, 2016)

1. Cultural identity
2. Gender role

GENERAL EDUCATION NOTES

September 2024 Board Licensure Examination for Teachers

3. Age identity
4. Social class
5. Religious identity

Cultural Factors in Multicultural Settings

(Cotton, 2013)

Mother tongue and secondary languages	Local culture
Friends	Experience
Race	Religion
Neighborhood	Politics
Ethnicity	Regional attire
Education	Physical features
Gender	Ancestry, Parents and families
Profession	Media
	Teachers

Intercultural Communication

- lack of understanding of how certain cultures works
- Intracultural - same culture, ethnic or race
 - Interethnic - different ethnicity
 - Interracial - different race
 - International - different nationality

Varieties and Registers of Spoken and Written Language

- Written Language - carefully organized; word of choice is deliberate
- Spoken Language - maintained in dialogues; spontaneous and momentary

Characteristics of Written English and Spoken English:

	Written English	Spoken English
Flow of language	steady	pauses (utterances)
Organization	structured	less particular with structure
Register	Both formal and informal	mostly formal

Different Registers in Different Forms and Functions

Register	Definition	Example
Frozen or static	language never changes	"Our father who art in heaven. . ."
Formal	standard english	"Please accept our sincerest gratitude . . ."
Consultative	less formal standard english	"Appreciate it! Looking forward to see you."
Casual	language among friends	"What's up, Dawg! chillin' again?"
Intimate	language among lovers and family	"Nay, tsararat ba ako?"

Concentric Circles of English (Aral Kachru)

Inner Circle	English as NATIVE LANGUAGE USA, UK, Canada, Australia, New Zealand
--------------	---

Outer Circle	English as SECOND LANGUAGE Bangladesh, Ghana, India, Kenya, Malaysia, Nigeria, Pakistan, Philippines, Singapore, Sri Lanka Tanzania, Zambia
Expanding Circle	English as FOREIGN LANGUAGE China, Caribbean Countries, Egypt, Indonesia, Israel, Japan, Korea, Nepal, Saudi Arabia, South Africa, South America, Taiwan, Zimbabwe

Evaluating Messages and/or Images of Different Types of Text Reflecting Different Cultures

Multimodal text in Communication

- "multi" - many/ various
- "mode" - way, channel, form or medium
- text - any signs (emoticons, emojis, pictures, lines, drawings, and etc.)

Text Types

- Linguistic Landscape - language used in public signs
Features of linguistic landscape
 1. Top - down — public signs created by the state and local government bodies (e.g. public announcements, signs of street names)
 2. Bottom-up — created by private entities (e.g. shop owners and businesses like shop signs, private announcement or signs)

- Geosemiotics - relationships between signs, symbols and meanings

Principles of Geosemiotics

1. Indexicality - meaning was given to a sign by a place
2. Dialogicality - signs have double meaning
3. Selection - one does not see all signs.

Principles of Geosemiotics

1. Regulatory sign - signs that regulate our behaviors (e.g. "bawal tumawid")
2. Infrastructural signs - infrastructure (e.g. emblems—hand signs like thumbs up, logo of schools)
3. Commercial sign - encourage to promote or purchase goods or services (e.g. name of business signs)
4. Transgressive sign - meant to violate social norms (e.g. graffiti, vandalism)

- Online landscape - virtual environment created by digital platforms and technologies (e.g. internet, digital advertising, digital marketing, online courses)

Media Literacy

- Media - all electronic or digital means and print or artistic visuals used to transmit messages

GENERAL EDUCATION NOTES

September 2024 Board Licensure Examination for Teachers

- Literacy - ability to encode and decode symbols and synthesize and analyze messages.
- Media literacy - application of critical thinking skills to comprehend and assess messages, signs, and symbols conveyed through mass media
- Media Education - study of media; “hands-on experience” and media production
- Media Literacy Education - educational field dedicated to teaching skills associated with media literacy

Communication Aids and Strategies Using Tools of Technology

Preparing Multimedia Presentation

- Multimedia - form of communication that combines different context such as text, audio, images, animations

Characteristics:

1. computer controlled
2. Integrated
3. Presented digitally
4. Interactive

Steps in Making Effective Communication Presentation

1. Determine the purpose
2. Identify the target audience
3. Gather information
4. Use variety of resources
5. Cite sources
6. Organize information
7. Add and format graphics, audio and video
8. Be creative
9. Revise as needed

Preparing Pecha Kucha Presentation

Pecha Kucha

(Mark Dytham and Astrid Klein)

- 20 x 20 presentation (20 slides in 20 seconds = 6 minutes and 40 seconds)
- “chit-chat” in Japanese

Steps in Making Pecha Kucha

1. Sentence topic
2. Minimum slide text
3. Build a story

B. Personal and Civic Responsibilities (45)

ETHICS

Ethics

Study of right and wrong of human behavior. (Ethos – character)

- Greek Tradition - focuses good life and happiness
- Judeo-Christian – doing what is right

Types of Ethics

Bioethics	Ethical issues concerning about life
Business Ethics	Ethical issues concerning the business environment
Environmental Ethics	Nature and ecosystem 1. Ecocentrism – nature-centered 2. Anthropocentrism – people-centered 3. Techno centrism – technology-centered
Sexual Ethics	Sexuality and Human Behavior

Moral

adjective describe human act as either ethically right or wrong

Moral and Non-Moral Standards

Moral Standard

norms/framework for determining what is ought to be done.
(Guilt)

Consequential	Non-Consequential
Teleological “utilitarian”	Deontological “duty”
Framework that depends on the outcome of the action	Standards based on the natural laws or written in the heart of men (eternal law)
Commandments from God (creation)	Sages from Philosophers (evolution)
Consequentialist theory is a way of thinking about whether certain actions are morally good or bad. Consequentialism says that we can tell if an action is good based on whether it leads to good consequences.	Deontology claims that good consequences aren't the morally deciding factor: rather, actions themselves are good or bad based on whether they obey or violate moral rules or duties.
If one person steals from another, a consequentialist would judge the action based on whether it caused good or bad consequences	If one person steals from another, a deontologist would judge it based on whether it broke a moral rule against stealing.

Non-Moral Standard

are matters of taste or preference like etiquette or rules of a game. (Shame and Embarrassment)

What Makes Standard Moral

Theist	Non-Theist
Morals come from the commandments of God revealed to man through the prophets.	Based on sages like Confucius and Kant Don't do unto others what you don't want others to do unto you.” – Confucius “Act only according to that maxim whereby you can at the same time will that it should become a universal law” Immanuel Kant , Categorical Imperative.

Types of Social Norms

 Folkway Norm that stems from and organizes casual interactions	 Mores Norm that structures the difference between right and wrong
 Taboo Strong negative norm; violating it results in extreme disgust	 Law Norm that is formally inscribed at the state or federal level

FOLKWAYS	RIGHT VS. RUDE
MORES	RIGHT VS. WRONG
TABOOS	RIGHT VS. FORBIDDEN
LAWS	RIGHT VS. ILLEGAL

Components of Moral

Thomas Hobbes – humans are moral agent

Freedom

Lawrence Kohlberg’s Stages of Moral Development

Level	Stage	Characteristics
Pre-Conventional	Obedience and Punishment	Avoid Punishment
	Mutual Benefits	Rewards and Favors
Conventional	Social Approval	Gain social approval Good boy and good girl period
	Law and Order	Conform and uphold the rules and law
Post Conventional	Social Contract	Common Good
	Universal Ethical Principles	Follow own moral guidelines

Human Acts vs. Acts of Man

Human Acts	Acts of Man
• Acts of moral agent. • Involves reasoning. • Observing prescribed diet, tutoring the slow learners and preparing the board exam.	• Actions merely happen in the body without the awareness of mind. • Breathing, blinking of the eyes, dilation of pupil of the eye, perspiring and jerking of the knee.

The Determinants of the Morality of Human Act:

For an act to be morally good, all three determinants must be without flaw.

12. The Object of the Act
13. The End, or Purpose
14. Its Circumstances

Feelings and Moral Decision Making

- Feelings - Is an emotional state or reaction, experience of physical sensation like feeling of joy, feeling of warmth, love affection, tenderness, etc.
- Feelings as Instinctive Response to Moral Dilemma - Several studies conclude that up to 90% of the decisions we made are based on emotion. They can be obstacle but they can also help in making right decisions.

Ethical Subjectivism

- Moral statements cannot be objective because it is only people’s perception and attitudes that makes them right or wrong.
- It highlights the subjectivity of morality it is always dependent on feelings.
- It allows us to see convicting intentions behind moral statements.

Universal Values

Happiness	Peace
Love	Freedom
Safety	Intelligence
Human Respect	Equality
Justice	Nature
Health

Definition of Terms

- Character - refers to a set of moral and mental qualities and beliefs that makes a person different from others.
- Personality refers to the combination of qualities, attitude and behavior, that makes a person distinct from others.
- Moral character – refers to having or lacking moral virtue
- Moral agent – It is the person who do moral act.

St. Thomas of Aquinas

Medieval Philosopher

- Summum Bonum - “Every human act is directed toward an end”

Three Thomistic Principles

According to Alfredo Panizo (1964):

- Every agent that performs an action act for the sake of the end purpose to be attained.
- Every agent acts for an ultimate end.
- Every agent has the power of moving for an end which is suitable or good for him.

According to 20th Century thinkers

there were NO Pre-fixed plan for man.

Jean Paul Sartre	A human person is or becomes what he/she makes of him/herself by choice .
Teilhard de Chardin (1948) and Alfred North Whitehead (1946)	believers of Process Philosopher – For them, whatever a human person is or will be a result of creative process .
Martin Heidegger, Gabriel Marcel and Martin Buber	See themselves as being-with-others, inseparably related to their fellow man.

The Development of Moral Character of The Moral Agent

- Defining Moments - Refers to the life changing event or moment that reverberates throughout your career and personal life and so changes everything.

GENERAL EDUCATION NOTES

September 2024 Board Licensure Examination for Teachers

- People may get involved in an argument by ethical subjectivism to persuade the opponent to follow their point of view but not to disprove their objective truth.

Two Versions of Ethical Subjectivism:

- Simple subjectivism - One can only approve or disapprove of the things that he states to be good or bad in aspects of morality.
- Emotivism - Moral Statements simply reflects preference. Moral Statements are neither used to state facts nor to convey information instead it serves as means of affecting human behavior and expressing one's feelings and emotion. Known as Boo-Hooray Theory.

Rule of Reason

- When we make any kinds of judgment, we must reinforce them for valid reason.
- Feelings can help in making right decision - Subjective feelings sometimes matter when deciding between right and wrong. Emotions, like our love for our friends and family, are a crucial part of what gives life meaning, and ought to play a guiding role in morality.

Reason and Impartiality as Minimum Requirement for Morality

- Reason – is the basis or motive for an action, decision, or conviction.
- Impartiality – is a principle of justice holding that decisions ought to be based on objective criteria, rather than on the basis of bias, prejudice, or preferring the benefit to one person over another for improper reasons.

The 7-Step Model of Decision Making is as follows:

1	Gather the facts
2	Determine the ethical issues
3	Determine what virtues/principles have a bearing on the case
4	List the alternatives
5	Compare the alternatives with the virtues/principles
6	Consider the consequences
7	Make a decision

Definition of Terms

- Will – refers to that faculty of mind which chooses, at the moment of making decision, the strongest desire from among the various present.
- Moral Courage – means doing right thing even at the risk of inconvenience, ridicule, punishment or loss of job, security or social status.

Ethical Frameworks

- Is a set of codes that an individual uses to guide his or her behavior
- Also known as “Moral Standard”.
- It is what people use to distinguish right from wrong in the way they interact in the world.

Dominant Mental Frames:

- Virtue or Character Ethics
- Natural Law or Commandment Ethics
- Deontological and Duty Framework
- Utilitarianist/Teleological: Consequentialist Approach
- Love and Justice Framework

Aristotle's Virtue Ethics

- This question focuses on the character traits one is supposed to have in order for that person to be considered as ethical. Virtue ethics is Person-based Rather than action-based
- An ethical person is a virtuous person.
- Aristotle - A Philosopher from Stagira, he wrote a lot of ranging topics in various disciplines.
- “Good character is the indispensable condition and chief determinant of happiness, itself the goal of all human doing. The end of all action, individual or collective is the greatest happiness of the greatest number.” – Ethics, 350 BCE
- “Happiness is the meaning and the purpose of life, the whole aim and end of human existence”
- We must cultivate virtues because they are the qualities that will help the people to live well.
- Telos – End / Ultimate Goal: Happiness = Eudaimonia

St. Thomas Natural Law Ethics

- “Some truths about God exceed all the ability of human reason... but there are some truths which natural reason also is able to reach. Such as that God exists” -Summa contra Gentiles
- He was from a noble family in Naples and early in his life he decided to join the Dominican Order.
 - “We call this man a dumb ox, but his bellowing in doctrine will one day resound throughout the world.” - Albertus Magnus in defense of Aquinas
- “Reason” is the source of the moral law; it directs us towards the “Good”
- Good – is the ultimate goal of the person's actions. The good is discoverable within the
 - person's nature.
 - An act is morally right if it is done according to moral law.

Moral Law

- Do good and avoid evil
- An action is Good if it is done in accordance with Conscience.

Three-Fold Natural Inclination of the Human Person

Qualifications to know that one's action obeys conscience

- ❖ Self-preservation - Natural inclination to take care of one's health or not to kill or to put one's self in danger.
- ❖ Just dealing with others - Treat others with the same respect that we accord ourselves
- ❖ Propagation of human species - The reproductive organ is by nature designed to reproduce and propagate human species.
- An act does not obey conscience; It is therefore immoral.
- Circumstance - The conditions affecting the morality of an action.

Classification:

- Quality of person (Who)
- Quality/Quantity of the moral object (What)
- Circumstances of place (Where)
- Circumstances of mean (By what means)
- Circumstances of end (Why)
- Manner in which the action is done (How)
- Time Element (when)

Kant's Deontological Ethics

- Born in 1724 in Konigsberg, Prussia. He is a Philosopher that published books entitled Critique of Pure Reason and Prolegomena to any Future Metaphysics
- "I had to deny knowledge in order to make room for faith."
- Deontological – means duty. It focuses on "duty, obligation and rights" instead of consequences or ends.
- The duty-based approach argued that doing what is right is not about the consequences of our action (something over which we ultimately have no control) but about having the proper intention in performing the action.

The Ethical Action is One Taken from the Duty.

- How important is the intention in the analysis of one's ethical behavior?
- Whatever result may happen as consequence of the act is not included in this moral assessment. Thus, it is possible that though the consequence was not the desired result, or may result in something bad, still- the act can be considered good.
- A person should be morally judged only on things, that are within his control, in short those that he willed.

- An action is legally right if it is the same in accordance with a universal law, that is, in accordance with the categorical imperative.

Utilitarianism: The Consequentialist Ethical Framework

- An action is morally right if it maximizes overall well-being and happiness.
 - "The said truth is that it is the greatest happiness of the greatest number that is the measure of right and wrong" -Jeremy Bentham
- Bentham studied law and wrote on ethics, politics, economics and the law. He is known as the founder of Utilitarianism.
- The primary motivation of human behavior is the desire for pleasure and the avoidance of pain.
- Hedonism – The pursuit of pleasure.
 - "I have learned to seek my happiness by limiting my desires, rather than in attempting to satisfy them" - John Stuart Mill
- He continued Bentham's legacy and generally credited for having popularized it. As utilitarian, he lived its tenet and found that one of the secrets of happiness is the limitation of desire.

Justice and Fairness Promoting Common Good

- Social Justice is equal access to wealth, opportunities and privileges within society.
- Promotion of Social Justice is equivalent to promotion of the common good.
- Common Good – refers to those facilities that the members of community provide to all members in order to fulfil a relational obligation they all have to care for certain interests that they have in common.
- When the government improves public property and services, and develops the natural resources, it simultaneously promotes equal access to wealth, opportunities, and privileges within society.

C. Practical Skills Development (45)

ART APPRECIATION

Art

- The term Art derives from the old Latin, which implies a “craft or specialized sort of expertise, as carpentry or smithing or surgery” (Collingwood, 1938).

The Subject of Art

- In any art form- be it painting, music, sculpture, architecture, o dance that serves as the foundation of the creation of the work of art.
- The subject of art is varied.
- Usually anything that is represented in the artwork. (person, object, sense, or event)
- Presented in 2 ways:
 - Representational/ Objective Art: Artworks that depict something that is easily recognized. The subject is clear/ identified. Ex. Painting * Sculpture* Graphic Arts Literature Theater Arts.
 - Non- representational/ non- objective art: Artworks that has no resemblance of any real subject. Do not represent anything & they are what they are. Appear directly to the senses primarily because of the satisfying organization of their sensuous and expressive elements. Ex. Music* Architecture Abstract Art Non- figurative arts Etc.

Assumptions of Art

Art Is Universal

- Timeless, transcending generations and nations through and through.
- Misconception: Artistic created long time ago.
- Age is not a factor in determining art.
- Literature has contributed crucial terms of art.
- Iliad and the Odyssey are the two Greek Epics that one’s being taught in school.
- The Sanskrit compositions Mahabharata and Ramanaya are also classics in this domain.

Nature Is Not Art, and Art Is Not Nature

- In the absence of a depiction of reality, art may be thought of as a perspective of reality.
- In the Philippines, it is fairly uncommon for some viewers of local films to express their dissatisfaction with the films' realism by stating that they are unrealistic. They argue that local movies are based on a set of formulas that are detrimental to the content and fidelity to reality of the films they produce

- 'Well and Grinding' is a painting by French artist Paul Cezanne that depicts a situation from reality.
- The Chateau Noir's Forest has a wheel, and it is located there.

Art is a Result of Personal Experience

- It is not a comprehensive guide, but rather an experience. The actual act of
- accomplishing something.
- For others, reaching this point without having a good definition of art might

- The way we draw a line can convey different expressive qualities:
 - Freehand lines can express the personal energy and mood of the artist
 - Mechanical lines can express a rigid control
 - Continuous lines can lead the eye in certain directions
 - Broken lines can express the ephemeral or the insubstantial
 - Thick lines can express strength
 - Thin lines can express delicacy
- It has the look of softness and generates a relaxing sensation or atmosphere. It represents freedom, the natural world, and the ability to be creative

Color

- Color has an immediate and significant impact on the design of a piece of artwork. Colors can influence how individuals feel and behave.
- Warm Colors: red, orange, and yellow
- Cool Colors: blue, purple, and green

Form/Shape

- Whatever something is in terms of its form, outline, or arrangement.
- Squares, circles, ellipses, ovals, rectangles, and triangles are all possible shapes.

Space

- It can either increase or decrease visual space.
- Open, uncluttered environments are preferred. Crammed and overburdened.

Texture

- The appearance or feel of an object's surface.
- Reflects lighter than a rough surface, making the color more vibrant as a result of the reflection.
- Rough surface: Absorbs more light, giving the appearance of being darker.

Value

- Tone (the degree to which a color is bright or dark)
- Shade (the degree to which a color is light or dark)
- Tint (A pale or faint variation of a color)

Principles of Arts

- There are five fundamental principles that underpin an engaging design.

Balance

- Parts of the design are evenly placed across the space to generate a feeling of solidity. It's possible to have both bodily and visual equilibrium.

Rhythm

- Using line, form, color, texture or pattern repeatedly is what patterning is.

Emphasis

- The most personal component of a design is the way it is highlighted. This
- is the aspect that draws in viewers. It may be created using several
- elements like as size, positioning, color, and line use.

Proportion and Scale

- It is the comparative connections between components in a design that are measured in terms of their size and proportion

Unity

- is the use of uniform usage of lines, color, and texture across a design project.

Artists and Artisans

- Painting, sculpture, dance, music, and poetry are examples of art practitioners who use their imagination to produce or develop indirectly utilitarian arts with aesthetic value. Artists include those who paint, sculpt, dance, and write.
- A craftsman, such as a carpenter, a carver, a plumber, a blacksmith, a weaver, an embroider, and so on, who creates directly utilitarian and/or ornamental arts is known as an Artisan.

Soul Making

- Soul-making is a non-traditional method of getting to know oneself and delving into the depths and true significance of what we do in our daily lives.
- It encourages the development of our inner artist while also assisting us in communicating with others, understanding culture, and embodying tolerance and peace. It opens the door to a plethora of different intelligences and expressions.
- The process of creating and deriving meaning through art. For a person to make sense of language and draw meaning from words, it is necessary to take into consideration semantic and grammatical principles.

Art from the Perspective of PhilosophyArt as a kind of Emulation

- Plato's The Republic portrays artists as mimics, and art as nothing more than a collection of imitations. He believes that the things that exist in this world are simply copies of the original, the eternal, and that authentic beings can only be discovered in the World of Forms, according to his metaphysics or perspective of reality.
- Art is nothing more than a copy of another's work. In the World of Forms, a painting is just a copy of nature, which in turn is an imitation of reality in the actual world.

Art as a Means of Communication

- In agreement with Plato, Aristotle, on the other hand, saw art as a tool to help philosophy in the pursuit of the truth. Art is a representation of a version of reality. Aristotelian philosophy holds that art has two distinct purposes: it allows for the enjoyment of pleasure, and it has the power to be instructional, teaching its audience valuable lessons about life and its surroundings.

Art as a Kind of Unbiased Evaluation

- Kant's Critique of Judgment asserted that the judgment of beauty, which he regarded to be the foundation of art, was something universal, despite the fact that it was susceptible to subjectivity. In his understanding of beauty, he acknowledged that it is subjective.

Art as a Means of Conveying Emotional Content

- Tolstoy believed that art has a significant function in communicating feelings that the creator has previously experienced to an audience via communication. Emotions are communicated via art
